FOREIGN POLICY OF ROOSEVELT GETS NEW JOLT

Plans Dented Again by Europeans.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Political insurance adjusters are busy at the moment surveying the damage done to the Roosevelt foreign policy by the sensational events in Europe last week.

Mr. Roosevelt during the last year has developed a policy of promoting the resistance of the democratic nations to the dictatorships. So long as Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was in charge Great Britain pursued essentially the same policy. There was no alliance or understanding with Great Britain, the President and Secretary of State Cordell Hull averred. The United States and other likeminded nations merely were pursuing parallel policies against the common menace.

Britain Off at Tangent.

Barely, however, had the Roosevelt administration proclaimed this parallel policy with Great Britain's than Britain went off at a tangent and threw Eden to the wolves in order to make terms with Mussolini and Hitler. The same blow that felled Eden put a big dent in the Roosevelt parallel foreign policy.

The President and Mr. Hull were greatly annoyed to find themselves out on the end of a very long limb which Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain had sawed off. Not that the predicament was wholly novel to them.

The first experience Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hull had as limb sitters when the limb is sawed off was during the Italian conquest of Ethiopia in 1935. The league of nations essayed somewhat gingerly by partial embargoes and other measures to coerce Dictator Mussolini into abandonment of the war. The league powers complained that they could not make application of these sanctions wholly effective so long as Mussolini could obtain supplies from the United States. Mr. Roosevelt did everything in his power to join hands with the league against Mussolini.

Authority Denied President.

He sought neutrality legislation clothing the President with full discretion to discriminate between belligerents in order to coöperate with the league in coercion of an aggressor. Congress denied him this authority because of the fear that Roosevelt, thus venturing to take sides in European quarrels, would get us into more wars than he would keep us out of.

Nevertheless Mr. Roosevelt, going beyond the restrictions of the mandatory neutrality law that was enacted, sought to support the league by removing government protection from any transactions whatsoever with Italy. In particular he attempted by government threat and coercion to stop the shipment of American oil to Italy.

At that time Mr. Roosevelt had been led to believe that Great Britain and the other league members were going to embargo exports of oil to Italy. He was feeling quite comfortable in his undertaking to aid the league in enforcing high standards of moral conduct among nations. Then there came the sound of a rumbling in Rome.

Mussolini Issues Warning.

Mussolini was putting Mr. Roosevelt on notice that in interfering with perfectly legal oil shipments to Italy he was committing an "unfriendly act."

Thus threatened by Mussolini Mr Roosevelt, who was then well out on the end of the limb, looked around to see if his support was still there. To his dismay he perceived it was not. The British had not only run out on him but had sawed off the limb. Great Britain had prevented the league from placing an embargo on oil exports because the British oil companies were doing a thriving business with Mussolini.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hull, thus left alone to face the irate Mussolini, hastily retreated from their undertaking as gracefully as possible under the circumstances. They rescinded their policy of discouraging all transactions with Italy and proclaimed that thenceforth their policy would be the limitation of exports to the belligerents to peacetime volume. The war ended before exports reached

Kentuckians Meet, Draw Guns; 1 Killed, 1 Jailed

Whitesburg, Ky., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—At Troublesome creek headwaters, on the Knott county border, Frank Lundy, 32 years old, was arrested today charged with the slaying last night of Floyd Logan, a neighbor. The two quarrelled several months age, but friends averted serious trouble. The two met late last night at a roadhouse, and Logan is said to have reached for his gun, but Lundy beat him to the draw.

ENLIST U. S. AS AN ALLY, RUSSIA ORDERS AGENTS

WouldEndAmerican Isolation Policy.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 27.—American communists and friends or sympathizers with the soviet union are losing their influence in many pacifist organizations in the United States, according to reports published in the soviet press. They denounce American societies which oppose coördinating American policies with those of Great Britain, France, and Russia.

Moscow's agents in America are instructed to lead the fight against the isolationists and put pressure on President Roosevelt to fulfill the indefinite proposal he made in his Chicago speech in October which aroused Russia's hopes that America would come to the assistance of Russia, Britain, and France against the anti-comintern bloc of Fascist nations.

Linked to Trotzkyists.

Isolationists, the communist newspaper Izvestia said, are combating Mr. Roosevelt's program of naval armament and also are opposing the idea of collective security advanced by Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov, and which has found followers in France.

American organizations protesting against collaboration with the threatened nations in Europe are playing a rôle similar to that of the Trotzkyist organization in Russia, and, Izvestia continues, they also deserve the term "Trotzkyist wreckers."

Count Russia as An Ally.

The struggle in Washington, D. C., to formulate American foreign policy has become first page news in Moscow, where the writers believe America is being forced to take a more active part against Germany, Italy and Japan by Pacific developments.

Declaring British-American collaboration in the Pacific is a natural development, communist writers state Russia will eventually be included in these developments, and that it does not matter whether London or Washington likes it or not.

EX-PREMIER TO TRIAL

MOSCOW, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Public trial of another batch of Dictator Josef Stalin's enemies among one time soviet chieftains headed by the editor Nikolai Bukharin and former Premier Alexis I. Rykov, tonight was ordered to begin March 2 before a military tribunal.

Twenty-one defendants were charged with treason, plotting to assassinate Lenin and Stalin, and inspiring the assassination in 1934 of Sergei Kirov. Kirov was a close friend of Stalin.

A long list of accusations linked the alleged plotters with the exiled Leon Trotzky and unnamed foreign powers which were to get huge slices of soviet territory out of the overthrow of the communist régime. Most of the defendants already had been arrested in the blood purge of the last year and had been in prison for months.

Biggest of Propaganda Trials.

Foreigners familiar with soviet trials said this one would be the biggest of the series that has sent numerous former soviet leaders to death before firing quads.

Most sensational was the charge that three of the defendants deliberately killed the world famous writer Maxim Gorky and two others, Vyacheslav Menzhinsky, once head of the secret police, and Valerian V. Kuibishev, chief of Russia's first five year plan.

Gorky's death June 18, 1936, previously had been attributed to pneumonia aggravated by a long illness from tuberculosis. Menzhinsky was supposed to have died of a lingering illness in 1934 and Kuibishev of a heart attack in 1935. The manner in which three doctors were accused of putting them to death was not disclosed, but presumably it was by poisoning.

Ex-G. P. U. Chief Accused.

Rykov, soviet premier for nearly ten years, was mentioned in court testimony in previous trials that sent numerous former soviet officials to death before a firing squad. Bukharin, chronicler of the Red revolution, was editor of the government newspaper Izvestia prior to his arrest and expulsion from the communist party March 5, 1937. Rykov

CLARENCE FINDS NEW WAY TO HUSH BARKING DOG, BUT REGRETS IT

Throw your bedroom slippers at a barking dog for keeping you awake and you'll miss and have to go after them besides. Try Clarence Bell's plan—wearing them down—and you'll regret it.

Mr. Bell lives in a hotel at 3146 Sheffield avenue. Across the alley at 3145 Kenmore avenue, Queenie, a German shepherd dog, was barking yesterday. She disturbed his Sunday morning slumber. He put on his slippers and bathrobe and went down, to find she was barking because she had been locked out. He took her up to his room where it was warm and stopped her barking.

And you think that's the solution? Well, Queenie's owner, Fred Pahlke, came over with Policeman Michael Kerwin and had Mr. Bell arrested on a charge of stealing the dog.

JANUARY AUTO DEATHS IN U. S. CUT 30 PER CENT

A reduction of 30 per cent in trafic fatalities over the United States during January was reported yesterday by the National Safety council. The total for January this year was 550 less than for the same month in 1937, the records showed.

The figure of 2,710 motor deaths was 30 per cent below December and 17 per cent less than January, 1937. The month was the third successive one to show a substantial reduction in trafic deaths, the report said. The total saving in the period was about 1,400 lives.

Maryland led all other states in the greatest percentage drop for January of this year, 46 per cent. Decreases of more than 25 per cent were shown by eleven others, Massachusetts, Delaware, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Colorado, Michigan, Connecticut, New Mexico, California, Vermont, and Virginia.

U.S. Tar Weds French Girl; Salvation Army Band Plays

NICE, France, Feb. 27.—Lawrence Gautreux of Dallas, Tex., 26 year old American sailor on leave from the flagship Raleigh, today was a principal in the first Salvation Army wedding held for an American in Nice. A French girl, Yvonne Sinian, 20, of Nice, was the bride. After the civil ceremony in the mayor's office the pair went to Salvation Army headquarters for a religious ceremony, performed to the accompaniment of the Salvation Army's brass band playing Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The hall was decorated with French and American flags.

G-Men Spread Net for More Military Spies

New York, Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Agents of the federal bureau of investigation, apparently in full command of a spy hunt that already has resulted in the arrest of an army deserter, a soldier and a woman as foreign agents, today were active in search of two, and possibly three, more members of the group accused of furnishing United States army information to the foreign power.

After breaking on Saturday a week long silence to announce the arrest of the two men and a woman hairdresser on the North German Lloyd liner Europa, the bureau resumed its policy of secrecy today. Reed Vetterli, the agent in charge of the FBI here, sent subordinates to various parts of the city, sometimes as many as six of them at a time.

Army Eager for Inquiry.

Information obtained from other sources seemed to throw conflicting lights upon this activity of the arm of the department of justice. While the army was extremely anxious that the inquiry be followed to the furthest possible degree, the department of state was willing to let the matter drop from public view.

Meanwhile Guenther Gustave Rumrich, 27 years old, an army sergeant and a deserter, was held in the federal house of detention along with Erich Glaser, 28, a private stationed at Mitchel field, and Johanna Hofmann, 28, the red-headed hair dresser of Dresden who worked on the Europa. Their bonds were fixed at $25,000 each yesterday on espionage charges which in peace times carry a penalty of thirty years in prison. In war time the penalty is death.

Spy Salary $50 Month.

Rumrich told the agents he obtained the spy post by writing to the "chief of secret police" of a foreign power offering his services. Shortly thereafter a mysterious man engaged him at $50 a month.

So far as investigators have been able to learn Rumrich sold the foreign power a gold brick. He never transmitted any information that could not be found in the army and navy journal, a publication obtainable by any one. A number of copies of it were found among his effects.

It was he who implicated Miss Hoffmann. In her baggage were several letters that offered $1,000 for plans of the navy's two new aircraft carriers, Enterprise and Yorktown.

Although there was a feeling that United States defense plans had not been damaged by espionage, precautions were taken by army officers.

GIRLS ARE SHUT OUT; TWO BASEBALL NINES ARE BORN IN 11 DAYS

Jacksonville, Ill., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Yesterday it was eight and today it is nine boys and nary a girl that have been born at Our Saviour's hospital here in the last 11 days. At a Springfield hospital nine boys [with never a girl] have been born in two days. Baseball fans have suggested these two nines be organized as ball teams when the babies reach sandlot ages.

Col. Thomas Hanly, commandant, ordered special safeguards at the army air base at Mitchell field, New York, where hangars house the latest models of fighting planes and where a device has been perfected, according to reports, which increases the accuracy of bombers at high altitudes.

Seek Link to Rubens.

It was reported that agents were seeking to learn whether a link existed between the spy case and the passport fraud involving Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Arnold Rubens, who are being mysteriously held in Russia.

A federal grand jury is going into its third month of inquiry into the issuance of fraudulent passports. The central figure in this inquiry is Al Marinelli, a leader in Tammany Hall, who recently resigned his post as New York county clerk under fire.

NEARLY 10, TWINS HAVE HAD BUT TWO BIRTHDAYS

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 27. — [Special.]—Joan and Patricia Book, twins, are nearly 10 years old, but they've had only two birthdays. The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Book of Washington, were born Feb. 29, 1928. Their first birthday was in 1932, their second in 1936, and the next one will be in 1940. They are in the fourth grade.

Gen. Pershing Rallies, Then Loses Ground

BULLETIN.

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 28.—(Monday.)—(AP)—Physicians early today lost some of the optimism induced by a rally, and at 1 a. m. reported Gen. John J. Pershing was "restless and tired" and had lost ground. Dr. Roland Davison, in announcing the setback, said:

"While I can point to no specific change in Gen. Pershing's condition—the pulse, temperature, blood pressure and respiration remaining the same—he appears tired and I definitely feel he has lost ground and is not as well. He is resting now, although the appearance of restlessness occurred a little while ago."

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A determination to live kept Gen. John J. Pershing on the upgrade tonight, and his physicians announced they were more hopeful for the war time commander, who has lingered near death since Thursday.

A late bulletin from the sickroom said that although the general was weak and still unable to swallow, in some ways he seemed to be better.

"He has had larger periods of consciousness and we have obtained a slight increase in kidney function," said the bulletin. "However, he appears weaker and his blood pressure is somewhat lower."

Doctors' Hope Revived.

The bulletin, issued by Dr. Roland Davison, Pershing's private physician, and Lieut. Col. S. U. Marietta, army heart specialist, said that the general continued to run a temperature.

"We are more hopeful tonight than we were last night," they said.

Dr. Davison was asked if he meant to convey the thought the chief of the armies might recover. He replied:

"As to his getting well, I am not so sure about that."

Heart Shows Strength.

He elaborated further on the bulletin:

"The encouraging signs are the strength of the general's heart. Although it is badly damaged it is still pounding away regularly.

"If we could get him to swallow some food during his periods of consciousness and get his kidneys to function better, we could feel really hopeful of pulling him through."

Surmounts Each Crisis.

The bulletin contained no report on the condition of the blood, which since last midnight had shown evidence of uremic poisoning.

The uremic poisoning resulted from failure of the kidneys and added to the complications already threatening the soldier's life.

Several times during the past four days physicians had given up hope and said the commander, who is 77 years old, could not last much longer, but his fighting heart brought him through each crisis.

Recognizes His Sister.

This morning Pershing greeted Dr. Davison by name and recognized his sister, Miss May Pershing, when she entered the sickroom.

Warren Pershing, the general's son, remained near the bedside with Frank Pershing, a nephew of the soldier. The strain of the long vigil was noticeable on all the relatives.

FOILS MARCH ON VIENNA; WRECKS COUP IN STYRIA

Schuschnigg Troops Surround Graz.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Feb. 27.—Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg today flung down the gauntlet to Austrian Nazis and their supporters abroad by calling out the army to back up his vigorous political cleanups in the Nazi province of Styria.

Dispatches from Graz, capital of Styria and the second largest city in Austria, said Nazis were planning to occupy public buildings there, seize the provincial government, proclaim secession from the Austrian federation and a union with Germany, and then march on Vienna. But the army struck first.

Armored Cars in Streets.

When the Nazis awoke this morning they found troops, including units from the large Graz garrison and three battalions of infantry which had been rushed 90 miles from Vienna, guarding public buildings, and armored cars ostentatiously cruising in the streets.

Several platoons of infantry likewise had set up machine guns all along roads leading into Graz in order to block the march of peasants from the countryside to the "victory celebration" organized by the Nazis—presumably the victory of their projected putsch. When military planes, vigilantly patroling the skies, signaled that numerous groups of peasants were converging on the city gendarmes were sent out along the road ahead of the military barricades to turn them back.

The gendarmes explained in a kindly way to the bewildered peasants, dressed in lether breeches and feathered caps, that there had been no coup, that they were still very much under Austrian law, and that they should return to their Sunday dinners. By noon it was reported in Vienna that most of the peasants were following this advice, and no fighting was reported from the vicinity of Graz.

Army Tanks Roll Into City.

Tonight army tanks began rolling into Graz. At Goesting, a nearby village, batteries of light field artillery were stationed in the roadways. All high schools in the province were ordered closed.

Armin Dardieu, a Graz Nazi leader, was quoted in dispatches as saying 50,000 Nazis had been mobilized in the Styrian capital for the "march" on Vienna. He said this force was to have been swelled by 8,000 Nazis from Loeben, 5,000 from Leibnitz and 2,000 from Liezen. Other Nazi units from villages throughout the provinces also were expected to participate.

Nazi leaders, frustrated by the sudden appearance of the army, said the march on Vienna would be staged later.

Police Routed Out of Barracks.

The series of swift military moves to thwart a coup d'etat was decided on in Vienna yesterday. Routed out of their barracks at 3 a. m., large forces of plain clothes detectives from the state police trooped down on Graz in auto trucks early this morning.

They reported for duty to Herr Dworschak, a deputy leader of the Fatherland Front, Austria's only legal political party. He had been sent down from Vienna as a sort of political commissar with powers virtually allowing him to take over the administration of the province from the insufficiently energetic hands of Gov. Stepan.

Dworschak, one of the toughest of the minor Fatherland Front chiefs, was personally deputized for the job by Guido Zernatto, vice president of the Fatherland Front party, minister without portfolio, and one of the strongest figures in Schuschnigg's cabinet. Zernatto was assigned the responsibility for the political administration of Styria only yesterday.

Schuschnigg Becomes Boss.

This highly significant appointment was a part of the general reorganization effected by Schussnigg. Under the shakeup, all provincial governors except the feeble Stepan were named provincial Fatherland Front leaders. Thus, they were put under direct orders of Schuschnigg as leader of the Fatherland Front, as well as under those of their administrative chief, Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the new Nazi minister of the interior.

This measure pushes centralization of the Austrian federation a step further, and above all enables Schussnigg to check up on orders which his Nazi minister may send out. The special assignment given Zernatto was an accentuation of this movement, necessitated by the especially bad condition in Styria.

After all these precautions Vienna does not fear any disorders which may occur in Styria—if there are any disorders.

General Cleanup Visioned.

There is no doubt that Schuschnigg's raid on Styria is the beginning of a general cleanup throughout Austria. Styria, it seems, was picked not only because it is one of the main Nazi strongholds in Austria, but also because it is farthest from Germany.

The province and more particularly the capital, Graz, have been in a state of virtual insurrection since the meeting of Schuschnigg and Adolf Hitler at Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, Feb. 12.

In addition to riots last Thursday which led to the suspension of Mayor Paul Schmid of Graz, Styria has been living under a terrorism of sorts for days. Fatherland Front adherents were reported to have been mauled without police interference for daring to wear their badges in public, while Nazi adherents openly sport their badges in defiance of the law. The local administration is so intensively Nazified that citizens who visit postoffices or other government bureaus are not waited upon unless they give the Hitler salute.

Berlin Nazis "Not Surprised."

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Austrian efforts to control growing Nazi influence in the province of Styria are arousing the most intense interest here.

Information available in official circles, however, still was very sketchy. Little was known beyond the fact that troops had surrounded Graz, the provincial metropolis, and military planes were circling over the city.

Nazis in Berlin are not surprised at the developments, as they interpreted Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's Thursday speech to parliament as a warning the government would stop at nothing to put down the Austrian Nazi movement.

Some quarters suggested the troop movements might be merely a show of force by Schuschnigg to discourage any thought of a popular uprising.

The Nazi press here has been playing up Socialist and communist demonstrations in Austria rather than those of Nazis.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's own organ, Voelkischer Beobachter, has even accused Russia of fomenting trouble in Austria and threw out a hint that Hitler would permit no "soviet interference" in the affairs of a German state.

If leftist elements in Vienna—or elsewhere—should attempt to take advantage of the government's preoccupation in Styria to start trouble in zones from which troops have been withdrawn ardent Nazis expect Hitler would consider immediately countermeasures against such "soviet interference."

Austrian Army Thwarts Coup by Nazis

Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria called out the army yesterday to prevent Nazis from seizing power in the province of Styria and proclaiming a union with Germany. The Nazis also planned a march on Vienna. Troops hastened to Graz (indicated by arrow), capital of the province of Styria. Meanwhile Austrian officials began a vigorous political cleanup in the predominantly Nazi province.

REBELS' TRIPLE ASSAULT ON EAST FRONT CRUSHED

Loyalists Trap Party of Enemy Troops.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Spanish government reported today that rebel attacks on the eastern front had been repulsed with heavy losses for Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops.

A war bulletin said the rebels were forced to retire after a triple assault in what was described as the Horna sector.

Coastal Towns Bombed.

Government counterfire prevented part of the attackers from regaining their base and forced them to take refuge in a ravine between the lines.

Two seaplanes, apparently from Franco's Balearic Island base, Palma, bombed Fort Guixols on the Catalan coast yesterday morning and three others raided coastal towns near Barcelona last evening, causing several casualties.

Raids Take 1,542 Lives.

BARCELONA, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Febus [Spanish news agency] announced today that rebel naval and aerial attacks on twenty-eight cities and towns in Catalonia province since the civil war began had killed 1,542 persons and wounded 1,979.

To Feb. 5, Febus said, there had been seventeen bombardments in which 398 shells were fired and 212 air raids in which 5,024 bombs were dropped. Three hundred and sixty-one buildings were destroyed and 1,495 were damaged.

BRITISH FLYERS RENEW HUNT FOR MYSTERY PLANE

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Royal air force planes today resumed search for Britain's missing mystery plane on receipt of a report that wreckage had been seen in the Cheviot hills, near Langholm, on Scotland's southern border.

Planes from Usworth airdrome scanned the hills while Dumfriesshire and Roxburgh police and gamekeepers organized a ground search.

The mystery plane, a specially built bomber, one of three Royal Air force planes designed for a world's nonstop record attempt, vanished on a practice flight around the British Isles last Thursday. In it were two flying officers and a sergeant.

Former Slave, 80 Years Old, Dies in Lake Forest

Amanda Sales, born a slave, fell dead yesterday. She was 80 years old and proud of two things: her ability to support herself in her home at 321 East Granby road, Lake Forest, by housework; and the record of her husband, Walker, now dead, who was Lake Forest's only colored policeman.

CENTRAL EUROPE CAN'T BE 'DENATIONALIZED,' CZECH ENVOY INSISTS

ANGOULEME, France, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Stefan Osusky, Czechoslovakian minister to France, today said that nations of central Europe could not be "denationalized."

As a guest of honor of this municipality Osusky spoke of Franz Von Papen's disclosure that Reichsfuehrer Hitler envisages a commonwealth of nations in central Europe under German direction. Von Papen made the statement recently in Vienna before he quit his post as German ambassador to Austria.

"If this plan represents the realization of Germany's interests as a neighbor state in central Europe and as a great power," the Czech envoy said, "it must not be forgotten that it has been proved that the nations of central Europe cannot now be renationalized. New generations have grown since the war and are now definitly Czechoslovakian, Rumanian, and Jugo-Slavian."

KING CAROL PUTS INTO EFFECT NEW CODE OF RUMANIA

BUCHAREST, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Dressed in a glittering blue uniform, King Carol tonight signed a parchment document putting into effect Rumania's new constitution providing for a parliament elected by guilds of workers and professions.

After him signed Premier Miron Cristea, patriarch of the Orthodox church, and members of the government. Cristea told the king that in last week's plebiscite 4,297,581 Rumanians voted for the new constitution, while only 9,483 opposed.

Marshal Balbo Finds Three Flyers Missing in Desert

CUFRA, Libya, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Marshal Italo Balbo, governor of Libya, reported today that he had found the Italian aviator Count Franco Mazzotti who, with two companions, had been missing in the Libyan desert for three days. The flyers were unharmed. They were forced down 120 miles from this desert oasis while flying from Hon in an air Derby.

BRITISH MARCH ON ITALIAN EMBASSY TO PROTEST DEAL

10,000 Assail Premier's 'Surrender to Threats.'

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Ten thousand noisy demonstrators marched on the Italian embassy today bearing a resolution condemning what was termed Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's "surrendering to Italian threats."

The throng was halted short of the embassy by a wall of mounted police and but two of the number were permitted to approach the entrance.

They rang Ambassador Dino Grandi's doorbell, but there was no response. So they slipped the resolution under the door and marched back to join their cheering comrades.

The London communist party first organized a mass demonstration in Trafalgar square. From there the communists and their sympathizers wended their way to the edge of Grosvenor square to deliver their resolution to Ambassador Grandi.

Assails "Fascist Aggression."

The resolution declared the policy of "assisting Fascist aggression would not be tolerated." It also condemned "Italian intervention in Spain."

Opposition speakers throughout Britain, meanwhile, demanded a general election to test whether the electorate was back of Chamberlain's policy of bargaining with both Italy and Germany—a policy which appeared to have headed soviet Russia toward isolation from the councils of Europe.

Chamberlain, staking British prestige and his hope of peace on settling accounts with Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler, offered no participation to Moscow.

"Labor Peer" Speaks.

Baron Strabolgi, the "Labor peer," addressed 2,000 persons in Hyde Park, accusing Lady Ivy Muriel Chamberlain, widow of the prime minister's brother, Sir Austen Chamberlain, and the Virginia-born Viscountess Astor of "meddling" in foreign policy.

Lord Strabolgi, scion of an ancient Scottish house, decried Chamberlain's "truckling to the Italians" in the face of "bullying and blackmailing by Fascism."

[Chamberlain last week denied in commons there was any threat in Italy's friendship overture, but Anthony Eden, who resigned as foreign secretary because of the new policy, said Italy had said "now or never."]

The baron said "Lady Austen Chamberlain has superseded the British ambassador in Rome," reviving recent rumors that she had conferred with Premier Mussolini.

"This country has not got to the position that we must have society ladies trotting about Europe in relation to foreign policy and you can understand how subject to flattery they will be in the presence of some of these great he-men, the dictators of Europe," he continued.

Says Lady Astor Is Boss.

"The foreign policy of this country is no longer settled by the cabinet in Downing street, but in the country home of Lady Astor at Cliveden."

Clement R. Attlee, Labor leader, speaking at Gosport, called Chamberlain's policy "pathetic lunacy."

Russia was expected to wage what may be her last struggle to preserve Dictator Josef Stalin's influence in the west by trying to smash Chamberlain's policy through the quarrelsome 27-nation Spanish nonintervention committee.

Chamberlain has told commons that "peace in Europe must depend on the attitude of the four major powers—Germany, Italy, France, and ourselves." Chamberlain dismissed Russia as "partly European and partly Asiatic."

To ruddy-faced, skilful Ivan Maisky, Moscow's ambassador to London and champion of loyalist Spain in the nonintervention committee, likely will fall the job of attacking Chamberlain's policy.

The committee was deeply divided on the new British scheme to get foreign warriors out of Spain—a vital factor in Chamberlain's freindship negotiations with Mussolini. Italy is a strong supporter of the Spanish insurgents.

The committee split, some sources said, has given Maisky his chance to attack the Chamberlain scheme.

He was expected to argue that Italy was seeking modifications of the British plan to make it favorable to Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

By thwarting Britain's proposal for solution of the nonintervention problem, Stalin's ambassador hoped to shatter Chamberlain's dream of a four-power pact likely to leave Russia alone to face Hitler's eastward drive.

1ST SECTION OF FRENCH PREMIER'S LABOR CODE APPROVED BY SENATE

PARIS, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The senate by a show of hands today adopted the first section of Premier Camille Chautemps' labor code providing for compulsory arbitration of workers and employers disputes after the premier had threatened to resign with his whole cabinet unless the measure was enacted. The premier was strengthened in his battle by overwhelming approval of his foreign policy yesterday by the chamber of deputies.

Twenty-two amendments to the code had been offered by the senate majority, but only one, a compromise clause was incorporated in the code. It authorized an adjustment of workers' wages every six months if the cost of living index rose ten per cent.

The code passed by the chamber fixed the gauge at five per cent, while the senate previously had called for a 12 per cent increase in the cost of living before there should be a wage adjustment. The bill was returned to the chamber, while the senate called for a vote Monday on the second section of the code providing for new collective labor contracts.

PORTO RICO WAR GAMES TO TEST U. S. ARMY, NAVY

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

SAN JUAN, P. R. Feb. 27.—All is quiet tonight in the eastern Caribbean, but "war" may be declared any time after 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It will be a war between Uncle Sam's own forces in an attack on and in defense of Porto Rico, with every branch of the military service, using every available means, taking part in the winter maneuvers.

Gov. Blanton D. Winship today reviewed Porto Rican National Guard regiments who, for the last week, have been in training for a "front line" defense of the island against the attacking forces of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard, and aviation units, which are awaiting orders to proceed to an undisclosed point from which the attack will be launched.

At some hour in an otherwise unfixed time the attacking forces will attempt to land somewhere along the 30-mile long guarded front of Porto Rico's southern coast. The "war" will be fought under conditions as near those of actual war as possible.

Indian Patriot and Four Members of Family Slain

MADRAS, India, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Discovery of their five bodies disclosed today the brutal slaying of a prominent Indian patriot and members of his family. Chinna Swami, founder of the Vellakoil congress committee; his mother, brother, sister-in-law, and cousin were all shot dead. His wife and sister were seriously wounded. The family were believed to have been ambushed in the garden of their home at Dahrapuram.

CHINESE PLANES BOMB JAPANESE TROOP CENTERS

Slow Up Invasion North of Yellow River.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's invigorated air force was reported today to have broken up Japanese troop concentrations on the north bank of the Yellow river.

The bombardment further slowed up the vast southward offensive of Japanese armies against the Lunghai railway corridor through central China.

One Chinese attack plane was said to have shot down a captive balloon from which observers were directing Japanese artillery fire near Menghsien, on the northern bank of the river, in northern Honan province.

Chinese Make Guerrilla Raids.

While the balloon plummeted to earth, Chinese bombs were dispersing Japanese elsewhere along the river, which in Honan province parallels the vital railway from which 400,000 Chinese have held off Japanese both from the north and south for weeks.

Last week's Chinese counter-attacks virtually halted the whole offensive and in some sectors actually rolled the attackers back. Opposed forces on the north bank of the river feinted at each other today without a major encounter.

The Chinese continued night-time, guerrillalike raids on the center of the southern Lunghai front, preventing the invaders from making any definite movement in any direction.

As though to offset failure on the Lunghai front, the Japanese were pressing a heavy campaign in southern Shansi province, some 150 miles northwest of the western end of the Lunghai front.

Warfare on Yangtze Revives.

The Yangtze river valley front, far to the south, flared into new life, with the landing of 2,000 Japanese troops at Sanshan, on the south bank of the river, some seventy miles southeast of Nanking, under cover of naval barrage and aerial bombardment.

Shanghai's Hungjao area today was the scene of another incident between Japanese troops and foreigners. Dr. Edward Birt, a German surgeon, and Hans Tiefenbacher, a prominent German business man, horseback riding there, were attacked by a knife-wielding Japanese soldier.

Japanese military authorities said the soldier was intoxicated and identified him as an auxiliary member of the supply corps. He had not been apprehended but, the authorities said, "an investigation is going on." A protest against the attack was lodged with Japanese authorities by the acting German consul.

U. S. POSITION ON YANKS IN CHINA SATISFIES JAPAN

TOKIO, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The foreign office spokesman said today that Japan considered the position taken by the United States with regard to its nationals in China as "perfectly satisfactory."

Referring to the American reply to a Japanese request that third powers take precautions to protect their nationals in the Chinese-Japanese war, the spokesman said:

"The United States took the position that a legal obligation to order nationals in China to mark their property does not exist.

"However, the United States said it might warn nationals to take precautions on their own initiative. This position is perfectly satisfactory to Japan. It was what Japan wanted.

"The whole question is merely a matter of finding some method to protect foreign nationals in China. The army is interested in protecting foreign lives and property."

BALKAN ENTENTE ASPIRES TO ROLE OF PEACEMAKER

ANKARA, Turkey, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Tevfik Rustu Aras, foreign minister of Turkey, declared today, as the four power Balkan entente closed its fourth annual meeting, that the "entente aspires to become the friendship and peacemaking link between peoples who face a most troublesome and most muddled international situation." It was understood the members—Greece, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, and Turkey—decided to adopt a watchful attitude in view of international developments highlighted by current Austro-German peacemaking difficulties and pending Anglo-Italian talks.

JAPAN AHEAD OF U. S. IN NAVY RACE, ADMIRAL CLAIMS

TOKIO, Feb. 28 [Monday].—(AP)—One of Japan's leading naval authorities in a magazine article today declared Japan already has defeated the United States in naval building with the result "America is unable to have anything like confidence in her navy's ability to cope with Japan." The author of the article is Rear Admiral Tota Ishimaru, retired, who is considered one of Japan's foremost commentators on naval affairs. He declared the Japanese navy to be superior in quality to the United States fleet now.

Led by Clarence Sager, 14 years old, the boys built a rabbit 27 feet high of snow. Young Sager and his crew of assistants spent three weeks in constructing the snow rabbit.

AIR FORTRESSES HOP FROM CANAL TO VIRGINIA BASE

6 Big Bombers Complete Good Will Flight.

Langley Field, Va., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Six giant bombing planes—the army air crops "good will fleet"—ended their 12,000 mile visit to South America today after a 204 mile an hour trip from the Canal Zone.

The four motored flying fortresses left Miami, Fla., only ten days ago to participate in ceremonies at Buenos Aires marking the inauguration of President Roberto M. Ortiz of Argentina.

Completed without accident, the venture boosted American military flying back to the position it held more than ten years ago following the army's around-the-world flight.

Record for Mass Flight.

The final flight today, a jump of 2,175 miles from France field at Cristobal, was made in 10 hours 26 minutes. High officials recalled no similar mass over-water flight for planes of such great size.

At every stop on the good will visit gay receptions greeted the forty-nine officers and men. Lieut. Col. Robert Olds, commanding the flight, brought with him the personal greetings of President Ortiz to President Roosevelt.

The squadron of bombers, described by their commander as "the best planes in the world," left Miami airport Feb. 17. The following day they landed at Lima, Peru, after a nonstop flight of 2,695 miles.

Return by Way of Chile.

Six hours later they left Lima to hurdle the towering Andes and land safely at Buenos Aires after a second nonstop flight of 2,500 miles. This hop brought the giant planes a new record for the Lima-Buenos Aires flight—12 hours 12 minutes—plus the honor of being the first flight of heavy military planes to cross the Andes.

The return flight was made via Santiago, Chile, and Lima, to Panama, where the silvery winged planes halted briefly for orders before starting their nonstop trip to Langley field, where they are based.

3 YOUTHS STICK TO ACCOUNTS OF AMBUSH SLAYING

The three youths who ambushed Edward C. Richard Thursday night stuck to their conflicting stories of the printing company executive's death yesterday. Charles J. Schmidt Jr., 19 years old, of 1654 Melrose street, insisted that he pushed Richard in self defense and Richard fell. Schmidt's comrades said that Schmidt, son of the president of Richard's company, told them he was going to Richard's home at 1358 Thorndale avenue to assault Richard.

The three will be given opportunity to tell their stories officially tomorrow at the inquest. It was originally scheduled for 1 p. m. today at the county morgue, but was continued until the same hour tomorrow at the request of the victim's widow. Funeral services for Richard will be at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 5501 North Ashland avenue.

Mass Flight Route

(Story in adjoining column.)

Course taken by six army "flying fortresses" on their good will flight to Buenos Aires and return. They concluded the trip yesterday after flying the last leg from the Panama Canal zone to Langley field, Va., 2,175 miles, at an average speed of 204 miles an hour.

ANIMALS AT ZOO GET AN IDEA THAT WINTER IS ENDING

It was still a bit chilly yesterday, but the animals at the Chicago Zoölogical park in Brookfield decided it was time for winter to be ending. So the bears came out to see if any peanut throwers thought it was spring, too, and Su-lin the panda came out to assure herself that her new panda sister wasn't stealing her public.

The outdoor preview was well attended. The peanut business was brisk, although the bears were somewhat out of practice and missed more than they should have. C. A. Donnel, the weather man, said today would be slightly colder, but fair.

Question Survivors of Rail Crash Which Cost 5 Lives

Burlington, Ia., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Burlington railroad officials today questioned survivors of the train wreck which yesterday took the lives of five shop employés, but responsibility for the crash has not been determined. Twenty others were injured when a freight train crashed into the rear of a train carrying 300 employés. Attorneys for the railroad said an interstate commerce commission hearing will be conducted, probably tomorrow morning, in an effort to fix responsibility.

THE ENEMY WINS BATTLE OF SALT CREEK (ON MAPS)

Fourteen thousand troops of the Illinois National Guard fought all day yesterday to turn back 22,000 enemy troops attacking eastward along Salt creek between Elmhurst and Downers Grove but, facing certain annihilation by midnight, the defenders were forced to retreat before dinner time.

There were, however, no shells fired nor blood shed inasmuch as the battle was fought entirely on field maps at the 131st Infantry armory. Taking part in this annual theoretical war were Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, commander of the Illinois National Guard, 33d division, 160 officers, and 100 enlisted men, and twenty-one regular army officers. Lieut. Col. Wesley F. Ayer, senior instructor of the Guard, commanded the forces opposing Keehn.

General headquarters and battle line communication posts were set up and staffed, with field orders issued as in actual battle.

MME. CHIANG TO QUIT AS HEAD OF CHINA'S AVIATION

HANKOW, China, Feb. 27.—(AP)—After two years of directing her husband's air force the American educated Mme. Chiang Kai-shek is authoritatively understood to be relinquishing the position.

The strain of her wartime duties is generally known to have heavily taxed her health. She has been executive secretary of the aeronautical commission. Mme. Chiang took over the job when the embryonic air force was badly disorganized by factional disputes, corruption, and inefficiency.

The outbreak of war with Japan last July prevented thorough rebuilding of the aerial arm, but Mme. Chiang's determination and zeal are generally credited with keeping the sadly outnumbered Chinese force in the air.

ENLIST U. S. AS ALLY, MOSCOW ORDERS AGENTS

Says Isolationist Policy Must Be Broken.

and Bukharin have been in prison for nearly a year.

Called Plotters with Trotzky.

All defendants were charged with conspiracy with Leon Trotzky to overthrow the soviet régime in armed rebellion with the aid of unnamed foreign powers, charges similar to those made at previous treason trials

An official announcement of the trial, long predicted after previous testimony in court intimated many others were involved in alleged plots against the soviets, called the band a Trotzkyist-Rightist bloc.

[An exile in Mexico, Trotzky vigorously has denied any plotting against the bolshevik régime.]

The official communique directly charged the bloc with ordering the assassination of Sergei Kirov, Joseph Stalin's right-hand man who was slain in 1934. Kirov's death touched off a wave of arrests and executions in retaliation, forerunner of the soviet purge of the last eighteen months.

The one-time chief of the dread secret police, Genrikh G. Yagoda, was listed among the accused, apprehended in investigations of the political police he once headed. Yagoda was demoted from his police post to become commissar of communications, but he lost even that position last spring and was arrested on charges of embezzling state funds.

Gregory Grinko Named.

Others listed for trial were:

N. N. Krestinsky, former first assistant to Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov.

K. G. Ravosky, former soviet ambassador to France and a long-time bolshevik active in Russia's diplomatic affairs.

A. P. Rosengoltz, once commissar of foreign trade.

Vladimir I. Ivanov, former chief of the timber industry.

Gregory F. Grinko, former finance commissar.

Akmal Ikramov, former "political boss" of the Uzbek soviet republic in Central Asia.

Faysulla Khodjaiev, former president of Uzbek who was removed from office in June, 1937.

M. A. Chernov, former commissar of agriculture.

I. A. Zelensky, ex-head of consumers' coöperatives.

S. A. Bessonov, V. F. Sharangovich, P. T. Zubarev, P. P. Bulanov, Dr. L. G. Levin, Dr. D. D. Pletnyev, Dr. I. N. Kazakov, V. A. Maximov, and P. P. Kruchkov.

Traced Back to Lenin's Day.

The official communique said as early as 1918, at the time of the Brest-Litovsk peace negotiations with Germany which ended Russia's part in the world war, the group was associated with Bukharin and plotted to assassinate Lenin.

The communique reported the secret political police established that the group was formed at the behest of foreign states hostile to the soviet union for "espionage, wrecking, diversion, terror, disruption of the military power of the U. S. S. R., provocation of military attacks by those states on the U. S. S. R.," and the defeat and dismemberment of Russia.

They were accused of plotting to slice off the Ukraine, Russia's rich southwestern territory which frequently has been reported the subject of German expansionist aims, and White Russia, bordering Poland.

Other territorial separations they were accused of planning involved Georgia, Armenia, and Azerbaidjan, in the Caucasus facing Turkey, and the far eastern maritime provinces that point toward Japan.

Margaret Nicholson, as she was questioned yesterday about the slaying of Bernard Vittallo.

Bernard Vittallo, whose body was found in an alley at the rear of 1011 Hudson avenue.

Charges that John Roccoforte, 28 years old, 1127 Hudson avenue, had threatened to "get" Bernard Vittallo, 21, 3200 Walnut street, a WPA worker, were made by a young woman yesterday in connection with he police investigation into Vittallo's murder. He was shot to death in the rear of 1011 Hudson avenue Saturday night.

The accuser is Miss Margaret Nicholson, 21 years old, 713 North Lawndale avenue, a friend of both men, both married. Police are investigating the possibility that jealousy over her may have motivated the slaying.

Miss Nicholson also told police that she had occasionally seen Roccoforte carrying a revolver, and when shown bullets of different types, she picked out one of .32 caliber as fitting Roccoforte's gun. That was the type used to kill Vittallo. Roccoforte denied he had ever threatened Vittallo, or had carried a gun. He denied all knowledge of the murder. He admitted he was stabbed by Vittallo a year ago.

POLICE GUNS END BALLROOM FIGHT OVER A QUARTER

Several hundred dancers in the Merry Garden ballroom, 3136 Sheffield avenue, were thrown into a near panic last night by a brawl in which five men allegedly attacked one, and then went on to threaten two policemen.

The fight started when some one dropped a quarter on the floor. Joseph Daniel, 26 years old, 453 North Morgan street, and Mario De Falco, also 26, of 711 Miller street, both claimed it. De Falco slugged Daniel and was joined in the attack, police said, by Peter Ceroone, 137 22d street, Melrose Park; Joseph Coglianese, 1103 South Ashland avenue; Carmen Panisco, 1034 Harrison street, and Hewey Domico, 1002 South Paulina street.

Men and women ran screaming out of the dance hall, attracting Policemen Tom Murray and James Reynolds. They rescued Daniel and drew guns when, they said, De Falco and his friends menaced them.

ILLINOIS ASKED TO AID NATION'S SYPHILIS FIGHT

$500,000 War Chest to Be Sought.

The American Social Hygiene association will make its first appeal today for Illinois contributions to its national anti-syphilis war chest, which is to be used in a venereal disease educational program.

Orville J. Taylor, Chicago attorney who recently was made chairman of the association's Illinois committee, said yesterday the initial appeal will be made in letters to 7,000 Chicagoans.

Half Million Set as Goal.

The association has set $500,000 as a tentative goal, $115,000 having been raised thus far, largely in New York, Connecticut and Ohio.

Mr. Taylor said fifty-eight leading business and professional men and women had accepted his invitation to help in the drive. The new Illinois anti-syphilis committee, later to be divided into executive and finance groups, includes:

Orville J. Taylor	Dr. Isaac A. Abt

Auto Thieves Kidnap Baby; Learn of It, Abandon Car

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Left sleeping in the back seat of the automobile by Mrs. Sylvia McLeod while she shopped in a nearby store, her baby, Floyd Nathan McLeod, 10 months old, was unintentionally kidnaped by auto thieves last night. An hour and ten minutes later the car was found parked within a block from the place it had been left originally, with the youngster unharmed, but crying lustily, still in the back seat.

FOREIGN POLICY OF ROOSEVELT GETS NEW JOLT

a volume that would have put this policy to the test.

Mr. Roosevelt had barely recovered from this experience of being let down by the British government than he began working out on the limb on which Prime Minister Chamberlain has just operated. When the first neutrality act expired he endeavored again in the new law to obtain the discretion whereby he could coöperate with the League in punishing a nation branded by the League as an aggressor. Congress again rebuffed him and made neutrality embargoes on exports of arms mandatory.

Shaft Aimed at Hitler.

Then the President essayed the leadership of a movement to rally the United States, Great Britain, France and other democratic nations to resistance to the encroachment of the dictators of the totalitarian countries. In numerous messages to congress and public addresses he delivered himself of more or less veiled attacks on Germany, Italy, Russia, and Japan as disturbers of world peace. Some of his shafts were patently aimed at Hitler and Mussolini as destroyers of democracy whose baleful influence must be curbed. He sought in vain to induce leaders of organized labor to denounce the dictators.

Then last fall in his Chicago speech Mr. Roosevelt proposed that the law abiding nations join in a "quarantine," to use his term, of the law breaking nations. This speech had been timed to anticipate the action of the league of nations the next day in denouncing Japan for aggression upon China. Thus Mr. Roosevelt in his Chicago speech had assumed the leadership of the world movement to discipline Japan and by implication Mussolini and Hitler. It was a move calculated to yield a vast amount of political capital to the President—that is, if the project should pan out.

Mr. Roosevelt joined the league in the Brussels conference which was called to have the law on Japan for violating the nine power pact. When the nations assembled at Brussels the true state of affairs was exposed. All of the nations participating, with the exception of Italy, were shocked by Japan's violation of the nine power pact and voted Japan a law breaker. All thought action should be taken to stop Japan's aggression upon China.

But no nation was willing to shut off supplies to Japan or join in taking any other action that might lead to war with Japan. None of the nations was willing to follow Mr. Roosevelt in establishing international "quarantine" of Japan, as proposed in his Chicago speech. And Mr. Roosevelt, it then transpired, was unwilling to commit the United States to participation in such a quarantine because it might involve the United States in war with Japan.

PAUL WRIGHT, FREED IN KILLING OF WIFE AND FRIEND, LEAVES CELL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Paul A. Wright walked out of the county jail into a pelting rain and freedom today as California's courts closed the books on the bizarre shock killings of his wife and friend, John Kimmel.

"If it is humanly possible, the public never will hear of Paul Wright again," he said as his attorney, Jerry Giesler, escorted him from the jail.

Wright had been a prisoner since the morning of Nov. 9, 1937, when he shot his wife and Kimmel because, he claimed in his trial, he found them embracing on a piano bench in his Glendale home.

A jury convicted Wright of manslaughter while armed, which carries a prison term of five to ten years. The same jury then tried him for his sanity and concluded he was insane at the time of the slayings. Under California law, that decision paved the way for Wright to go free.

MORE WPA STRIFE THREATENED BY RELIEF RADICALS

Chicago Warned Against Eastern Agitators.

Radical agitators from New York have threatened to foment Chicago relief disturbances on an increasing scale. This was revealed yesterday as the close relationship of the Illinois Workers' alliance, a so-called union of unemployed, WPA workers, and C.I.O. unions, became more apparent.

A relief official who desires anonymity because he must deal daily with the I. W. A. and C. I. O. representatives, said the appearance here of Gilbert Lang of New York, organizer for the Workers' Alliance of America, parent of the I. W. A., was the immediate cause of the recent agitation among the city's relief population.

Firm Stand Advocated.

"The outsiders in charge of the demonstrations have stated within hearing of relief workers that we may expect more sitdown strikes and picketing," the official said. "Chicago's organized jobless were criticized for not staging numerous demonstrations. Unless Chicago authorities take a firm stand the disturbances will go on, reaching a climax on May day, when radicals hold their main celebration."

"Trouble began a few weeks ago. Groups of I. W. A. members attempted to carry out sitdown demonstrations in relief stations throughout the city, more or less simultaneously. When ejected they formed picket lines. Banners stating demands of nearly every nature seemed to have been prepared in advance. Picketing is now in progress at six relief stations.

Lang, whose arrival followed a visit of his boss, David Lasser, president of the Workers' alliance, and Herbert Benjamin, vice president, also of New York City, extended his activity. There was a strike in his footsteps at a WPA sewer project in Aurora, where workers lost $12,000 in wages.

More Difficulty Expected.

His leadership on Friday brought about a strike of 6,700 WPA workers at the Chicago airport. Striving to complete essential improvements there by July 1, WPA officials conceded a demand for a change in hours. Another demand for an increase in laborers' pay from 50 to 65 cents an hour may cause another walkout.

Seeking more members—and more power—for the alliance, agitators have not hesitated to make capital of the present shortage of funds, the relief official said. The shortage is primarily the result of the unforeseen jump in unemployment.

Police will be called upon to remove demonstrators who will not leave relief stations, as in the past.

Where "pressure groups" file into relief stations one by one and suddenly confront relief employés with mass demands in behalf of an individual, firm methods will be employed if they interfere with office procedure.

Operations Closely Allied.

These "pressure groups" include C. I. O. union representatives as well as those from the I. W. A., the official said. Although the two disclaim any official connection, their operations are so closely allied in the field of relief that they often are considered as one, he said.

[An example of the rôle taken by C. I. O. representatives in I. W. A. affairs is found in an account of a meeting yesterday in the Croatian hall, 96th street and Commercial avenue, published in an adjoining column.]

The Illinois Workers' alliance was organized in 1934. Its first active chapters took root in the coal counties of southern Illinois, where C. I. O.'s boss, John L. Lewis, became a labor leader. Not for a year did it become successor to Cook county's organizations of reliefers, the Council of Unemployed and Workers' Committee on Unemployment. Thereafter I. W. A. sponsored all the parades, mass meetings, strikes, and other planned demonstrations of the jobless. The Illinois general assembly was besieged by about 350 alliance members in August, 1936. Rain drove them away after a day.

Claim 800,000 Members.

The Workers' Alliance of America, with headquarters in New York, has claimed 800,000 WPA workers and relief clients as members. Organized in April, 1935, it absorbed the National Council of Unemployed. At least once a year a "hunger march" or other demonstration is presented in Washington to impress congressmen and others handling federal relief funds.

President Lasser led forays of reliefers on state legislatures at Trenton, N. J.; Harrisburg, Pa.; Columbus, O., and Madison, Wis. Before becoming a professional agitator Lasser was president of the American Interplanetary society, whose goal was to reach the moon in rockets.

Vice President Benjamin was a communist organizer in Philadelphia and New York before taking office with the alliance. He led the first "hunger marches" upon Washington in 1931 and 1932.

On Honeymoon

Thomas R. Willard and his bride, the former Ila Margaret Woodward, daughter of U. S. Judge Charles Woodward, after their wedding in La Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Willard left for a honeymoon in Florida and Cuba following their marriage yesterday at 140 Blackstone avenue, La Grange, the home of the bride's father, Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward. Mr. Willard is purchasing agent for the Lake Shore Athletic club. The couple will live at 108 Lincoln avenue, Riverside, on their return.

SEIZE 5 CHINESE IN SOUTH SIDE DOPE DEN RAID

Five Chinese were seized in a dope den on the third floor at 2254 Wentworth avenue yesterday by Pekin Inn police and federal narcotics agents. Four cans of opium and a smoker's outfit were confiscated. The raid was made on warants obtained by Federal Agents Patrick Hanlon and Joseph Walsh. They assisted Detectives Arthur Goodman and Robert Lambert in the arrests.

The Chinese arrested are David Jung, 43 years old, and Chin Chow, 35, both of 2113 Wentworth avenue; Moy Yuen, 57, of 1745 Van Buren street; Yut Moy, 60, and Moy Tang, 51, both of 242 West Cermak road. The latter three are clan cousins of the late Frank Moy, mayor of Chinatown. They will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin Walker this morning.

CIO ORGANIZERS URGE RELIEFERS TO PUSH STRIKE

Demand More Cash from Public Till.

Some of the same men who declared they entered the South Chicago steel mills to organize for the Committee for Industrial Organization a few months ago appeared before more than 400 reliefers and WPA workers in Croatian hall, 96th street and Commercial avenue, yesterday afternoon to urge support of the Illinois Workers' alliance and the picketing of relief stations.

The speakers praised the C. I. O., the Workers' alliance, and Labor's Non-Partisan league—political offshoot of the C. I. O.—and promised their hearers increases in relief benefits, such as a minimum wage of $65 a month for WPA workers and increases in direct relief cash, including full payment of rent, light, and gas bills.

The listeners, many of whom were of foreign extraction, were told these things could be gained if they would maintain their picket line in front of the southeast relief station at 1752 East 75th street and join either the unemployed workers' section of the Workers' alliance or the WPA division of the same organization.

Collection Taken Up.

A collection of about $10 was taken up to provide sandwiches for those picketing the southeast relief station, and a call for volunteers to appear on the picket line at 8:30 a. m. today brought responses from thirty-one men and women.

Brother Morse [all the speakers were addressed "brother"], one of the organizers of the airport and relief station strike, condemned Hillman Rosenthal, supervisor of the station, for flashing a C. I. O. membership card and then calling police last Thursday to evict seven men and three women from the station after they had gone in for a quiet sitin strike.

Brother Tracy, who said he helped organize the steel workers, told of accomplishments of the Workers' alliance in New York with the aid of the C. I. O. and Mayor La Guardia. Chicago, he said, is behind the times. Even Indiana, he declared, is paying a higher WPA wage scale than Chicago.

Brother Morse, who was introduced as the prime mover of local 19 of the I. W. A. and the man who passed out candy bars to pickets at the 75th street relief station Saturday, took credit for boosting the organization of the picket line there.

"The relief station belongs to us," he said. "We pay for those case workers' educations for their good jobs, better clothes and fine automobiles, yet they say we can't come in and talk over our affairs with them.

"We will get in that station yet and have a sitdown strike. That is what we want. They must listen to our problems and solve them. If we don't get this and move fast, relief is going to be cut materially in Chicago during March."

Lewis Is Praised.

Brother Lampson, a member of the Cook county executive committee of the I. W. A., who urged organization of the unemployed as well as the employed, applauded John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. and declared: "Three representatives and one state senator at Springfield from this district can't go back unless you say so." He urged the defeat of those who were niggardly in the doling out of relief. Brother Lampson concluded with this promise for the future:

"If 10 per cent of the WPA workers of Chicago will join our organization and stay in, we will not only get them a minimum of a 10 per cent wage increase but we will get them a voice in our government. Go out and join that picket line on 75th street and join the Workers' alliance and we will win this fight."

Brother Lampson said he had gone into the steel mills a year ago to organize there.

STRIKE THREATENED IN 63 HOSIERY MILLS ON ISSUE OF BONUS

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A virtual shutdown of the sixty-three hosiery mills in Philadelphia appeared certain tonight as 15,000 organized workers remained steadfast in their decision not to return to their looms tomorrow as a protest against a mediation board order for bonus adjustments.

The adjustments are to become effective tomorrow under the board's award in a dispute between the American Federation of Hosiery Workers and the Full Fashioned Hosiery Manufacturers of America, Inc. The union claims the adjustments are equivalent to wage reductions of 11 to 22 per cent.

Ignoring a warning by Emil Rieve, international president of the union, that a strike would violate the principles of collective bargaining, branch 1 voted overwhelmingly yesterday not to return to work.

CHARGE HALF GET RELIEF BY FRAUD IN GRANITE CITY

Investigators to Report to Commission.

BY WILL O'NEIL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Granite City, Ill., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Nearly half the cases on the relief rolls of Granite City township are receiving aid through fraud, it was charged here today. Evidence of the waste and misuse of state relief money has been gathered by investigators for the Illinois Emergency Relief commission.

An informant who is in close touch with the situation said that the IERC [Illinois Emergency Relief commission] representatives haven't been able to discover just how many cases there are on the rolls of the township which has a population of 25,000. Of the 1,294 cases they have found so far, it was said, the investigators are expected to recommend that at least 500 of them to be taken off relief.

Workers Alliance Runs It.

"The Illinois Workers' alliance has been, to all practical purposes, running the administration of relief here," the informant said. The alliance is an organization of reliefers."

Earl J. Duncan, the head of the IERC staf which is making the investigation, could not be found for comment.

Granite City and the adjoining towns of Venice and Madison are dependent almost entirely upon steel mills and allied industries for pay checks. The Committee for Industrial Organization's Steel Workers' Organizing committee is said to have enrolled a large proportion of the plant workers. Although the C. I. O. has said it is not affiliated in any way with the IWA, the two organizations are reported to be working on close terms in the situation here.

This township received $13,467 in state funds in December, $15,234 in January, and $19,187 for February. Local funds of $16,321 were spent during January, but that amount exhausted the township resources. The rolls have climbed from 379 cases last July to the present figure of about 1,300 cases.

IERC Gets Report Today.

Thomas E. Courtney, a member of the IERC, charged recently that conditions such as are reported to exist here are costing the taxpayers of Illinoise an unnecessary $1,000,000 a month. The IERC previously has conducted surveys in nine other townships and in Alexander county and has found that 1,148, or 37.7 per cent, of the 3,047 cases in these administrative units should not have been receiving relief.

A report on the Granite City situation will be placed before members of the IERC in Chicago tomorrow, it was said. The commission was disturbed at a recent meeting by desperate pleas for more funds for the reliefers here. The Granite City investigation was started at the suggestion of Gov. Henry Horner.

Granite City has failed to take advantage of an opportunity to shift many of its able bodied men to WPA rolls, the investigators are reported to have found. Of more than 1,100 men who are eligible for WPA jobs, only 200 were certified during February.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

WE LIKE CRITICISM!

By CALEB

A GOOD friend of this column recently asked: "When you receive a letter extravagantly complimenting your store, does it not puff you up? I should think Marshall Field & Company would begin to feel quite elated and set up over high praise."

That is not at all true. Recently we received a letter from the president of a university in Ohio. He said: "Whenever I come to Chicago I feel exactly as did an elderly couple who evidently visited there for the first time during the last World's Fair—as I passed them the old gentleman, to the delight of his 'better half,' was saying, 'Marshall Field, we are here!'"

We who devote our time and services to this store have come to expect nothing less here than a continual World's Fair atmosphere—in the best sense. It was the intention of our founder that this be a superior place to shop. We have become accustomed to living within the aura and influence of that objective and ideal.

We are not set up over confirmations of our standards. After all, since they are our standards, we accept as commonplace that for which they stand.

On the other hand, we are definitely affected by service failures. When we receive uncomplimentary letters, just criticisms, or evidences of customer disappointments, we do suffer a change in our eclat or spirit.

The distinction I would make is this: False vanity is not fostered among us by high praise. If we live up to the traditions which have prevailed here many, many years, high praise is bound to come our way. But we know we have done only what we should do.

On the other hand, we cannot similarly placidly accept criticism. Criticisms, complaints, and suggestions for improvements are signals to conscientious Field people that our normal standards have been violated and our ideals threatened.

Praise may please us—but frank and candid criticism helps us and stimulates us to increased effort.

THOUSANDS SIGN TO AID VAN NUYS IN SENATE RACE

Support of Foe of Court Packing Mounting.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The appeal of Senator Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.] to 100,000 of his fellow Hoosiers to pledge their support of his independent campaign for reëlection has brought to date a total of 8,000 responses bearing more than 12,000 signatures.

Far more encouraging than the actual number of pledges received, according to Senator Van Nuys, is the fact that more than half of the signers so far have requested additional pledge cards for their relatives and friends to fill out. The requests for additional pledge cards range all the way from 10 to 500.

Machine Decrees Defeat.

Senator Van Nuys mailed his first batch of 100,000 appeals on Feb. 16, telling his fellow Hoosiers that he had been marked for political extinction by the Indiana Democratic machine and seeking the support of all voters "interested in unbossed representative government."

The Indiana machine, headed by former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, now high commissioner to the Philippines, and M. Clifford Townsend, the present governor, decreed the political death of Senator Van Nuys last summer, when he was a leader in the fight against President Roosevelt's scheme to pack the Supreme Court. After a conference with President Roosevelt, Gov. Townsend announced on the steps of the White House that Senator Van Nuys would not be returned to the senate.

Senator Van Nuys has no illusions about the chances of being renominated by the machine-bossed Indiana democratic convention, but he is prepared to wage his campaign for reëlection as an independent.

From All Parts of State.

Responses from Indiana citizens to the senator's appeal are still pouring in at the rate of several hundred a day. Many of those replying not only fill out the pledge cards he sent them but write separate letters bearing the signatures of a dozen or more friends.

The letters are coming from all parts of Indiana and represent all stations in life, lawyers, business men, druggists, physicians, school teachers, farmers, laborers, and even state employés, whose salaries are assessed 2 per cent by the McNutt-Townsend machine.

NAZIS AIM TO BAR DYING PATIENTS FROM HOSPITALS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

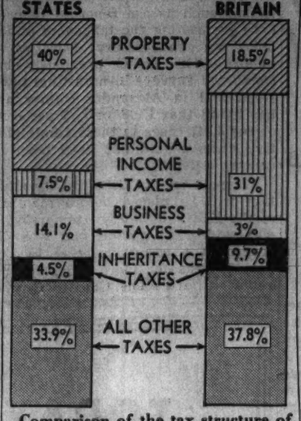
BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Alarm over the increasing death rate in Berlin hospitals has caused Dr. Conti, the city's medical officer of health, to issue an appeal to doctors not to send hopeless cases to hospitals.

"Despite all feelings to the contrary, one must remember that death, like birth, is a natural event that belongs to families," Dr. Conti said. "Moreover, dying persons often wish to pass their last hours in the family circle."

Dr. Conti explained that the rising death rate in hospitals is due largely to the fact that doctors are sending hopeless cases to hospitals, thereby "evading their personal responsibility." He further warned that public confidence in hospitals is being shattered, "thus upsetting their phychological pre-supposition for curative treatment." Dr. Conti maintained that the attention demanded by hopeless cases "seriously prejudices the attention which can be paid to other more hopeful cases."

Tax Revenue Sources

(Story in adjoining column.)



Comparison of the tax structure of the United States and Great Britain, showing that property produced 40 per cent of all governmental revenue in the United States in 1935 and 1936, compared with 18.5 per cent in Great Britain. Personal income taxes were Britain's major revenue source.

Auto Crash Kills Driver; Puts Airport in Darkness

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The south portion of the city and the Wold-Chamberlain municipal airport were thrown into darkness for two hours tonight and a St. Paul motorist and a companion were killed when their car crashed into a power pole. Thomas Brown, 26 years old, St. Paul, was killed. Two others in the car were hurt. The machine failed to make a turn on highway 5.

PROPERTY TAXES PAY THE WAY IN U. S. AND CANADA

The United States and Canada are the only two countries in which property taxes furnish more than a third of all governmental revenues, according to an analysis of world tax structures.

A compilation prepared by the Federation of Tax Administrators shows that property taxes in this country provided 40 per cent of all revenues in 1935 and 1936. The ratio in Canada was 40.1 per cent and in Germany 25.6 per cent.

In Great Britain property levies produced only 18.5 per cent of the total and in Italy 11.4 per cent. Britain's principal source of revenue was the income tax, which from 1934 to 1936 produced 31 per cent of the total. Personal income taxes constituted 7.5 per cent of all government tax revenues in the United States.

Taxes on corporations, licenses, and other business taxes accounted for 14.1 per cent of all revenues here in contrast to a ratio of only 3 per cent in Great Britain.

BODY TAKEN FROM RIVER.

The body of Andrew Wotruba, 69 years old, who has been missing from his home at 852 Dickens avenue since Feb. 18, was taken from the river near Division street yesterday.

NARY A STEWARDESS QUITS TO BE BRIDE IN ALL OF 30 DAYS

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The United Air Lines said today it was heartened by the fact that no stewardess had resigned in the last 30 days to become married. It was the first time in two years that one month had passed without the loss of at least one stewardess to Cupid. The line lost 51 stewardesses in that manner last year.

16 QUESTIONED ON MURDER OF GERMAN DENTIST

In a surprise roundup of habitues of poolhalls and taverns, Warren avenue police yesterday seized sixteen men for questioning about the mysterious murder of Dr. Max Bernhard Sammet, dentist, who was found shot to death at 229 South Paulina street Feb. 20.

Thirteen were later charged with disorderly conduct and three were held for further investigation. They are: Frank Mirabella, 27 years old, 912 Madison street, who once served a term in Joliet prison for larceny; Eugene D'Alessandro, 41, of 1140 Madison street, who in 1931 was sentenced to Leavenworth penitentiary for violation of the prohibition law, and Sal Massi, 22, of 1015 Loomis street.

Dr. Sammet is believed to have been the victim of robbers. He came to America from Germany last year.

JARECKI'S COURT RECORD ASSAILED BY PRYSTALSKI

Organization Candidate Opens Judge Campaign.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Circuit Judge John Prystalski, Democratic county committee candidate for county judge, began his attack yesterday against his primary opponent, the present county judge, Edmund K. Jarecki.

In a radio talk in the afternoon and in a speech at a rally of Polish Democrats in the ballroom of the Palmer house in the evening, the organization candidate did not mention Judge Jarecki by name. But he assailed the conduct of the court in tax matters and election fraud cases during recent years which Judge Jarecki has presided there.

Igoe Delays Campaign.

District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, candidate for United States senator, also spoke at the evening gathering, but confined his talk to the guest of honor, John Szumnarski, Democratic committeeman of the 35th ward, with only a slight mention of his own candidacy. He was persuaded by downstaters to enter the senatorial race and has promised them to withhold the opening of his campaign until he addresses a massmeeting at Springfield next Saturday night. Another state candidate at the speakers' table was Ald. Walter J. Orlikoski of the 35th ward who is running for clerk of the state Supreme court.

Judge Prystalski, surrounded by those of his own nationality, was applauded loudly as he said he was eager to undertake a "clean-up job" in the County court such as he inaugurated when he was chief justice of the Criminal court. He charged that the present County court lacks "ordinary diligence and courage."

Stresses Tax Situation.

"Evidently," he said in reference the county committee's slating him for the place now held by Judge Jarecki, "the Democratic organization had reason not to be satisfied with the conduct of the County court in late years. One of these reasons is the tax situation, concerning which much has recently appeared in the newspapers.

"Let's see where the action—or lack of it—in the County court has brought about the situation now facing us. Tax objections filed by citizens seeking relief from the burden of multiple levies have been continued by the court almost endlessly. In many instances decisions have been held up as long as two and three years.

"This has usually resulted in taxes remaining unpaid during the period of those continuances and the situation has necessitated payment of the taxpayers of interest on tax anticipation warants for that period.

"Another reason for dissatisfaction appears to be the conduct of the election machinery. The county judge has supreme control of the election machinery of the city of Chicago and those additional parts of Cook county under the supervision of the board of election commissioners.

Points to Own Record.

"He speaks of honest elections, but the elections have not been honest. That this is so is a matter of common knowledge. He speaks of punishing fraud at the polls, but let's see what means have been taken to punish those guilty of such fraud.

"In one election fraud case there were thirty-nine continuances over a period of almost five years. In another case there were forty-nine continuances over a period of two years and six months. In still another there were twenty-three continuances, and so on."

In discussing the speeding up of business in the Criminal court while he was chief justice there, Judge Prystalski said that the number of pending cases had been cut from 2,000 to 300 durng his term and that the average case came to a hearing within two weeks.

Repeat Marriage

Stan Laurel and Vera Shuvalova.

Yuma, Ariz., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Stan Laurel, the wry-faced film comedian, and Vera Shuvalova, Russian dancer, were remarried here today by Justice of the Peace Ed Winn.

Winn married them Jan. 1, but the couple decided to have another ceremony in the belief it would forestall any litigation by Laurel's second wife, Mrs. Virginia Ruth Laurel.

Mrs. Laurel No. 2 contested the Laurel-Shuvalova nuptials, claiming she and the comedian were reconciled before their final decree was granted Dec. 31, 1937. The courts ruled against her and held Laurel was lawfully wedded to Miss Shuvalova.

OLD AND YOUNG G. O. P. URGED TO STOP QUARRELS

Planning Committee Will Meet Today.

The younger generation of the Republican party was urged yesterday to cease quarreling with G. O. P. old guard and to join in a fight against the Democratic party. The plea was made by leaders of the Young Republican organization, meeting in the Palmer house. The rally was a curtain raiser to the two day session of the Republican committee on program which opens this morning.

Robert P. Bass.

"We must not consider ourselves as a separate branch of the Republican party," said Henry A. Bubb of Topeka, Kas., national chairman of the Young Republican group. "The days of reactionaries in the party are over. What we need is a leader, a Moses who will attract the country's youth and the salaried workers."

Assails Jolly Good Fellow.

Miss Kathryn Ford, co-chairman of the Illinois Young Republicans, also urged harmony with the regular party leaders. "Most of the country's young people still think Mr. Roosevelt's a jolly good fellow," she said. "They don't realize he's leading them into debt and possibly into war."

James Tucker, Indiana state chairman, exhorted the youthful workers to pull together. "For the first time in years the Republican party has a chance to get some place," he declared.

Several of the state chairmen were less enthusiastic about a complete union of the younger organization with the old party machinery. Walter Plazer of St. Louis, Mo., advocated strengthening the junior group and carrying on an extensive campaign against New Dealism.

Delegates Arrive for Session.

During the day fifty delegates arrived for the program planning session today. Among them were Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman; Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Miss Marion E. Martin of Bangor, Me., head of the women's division of the national committee, and former Gov. Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire. John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the national committee which created the program group last November, will arrive this morning.

SO. CALIFORNIA LASHED BY WIND; 1.43 INCH RAIN

Los Angeles, Feb. 27.—[Special.]—A terrific wind and rain storm struck southern California today, halting traffic, disrupting electric light service for hours, and forcing small craft to seek their harbor berths.

Officers of the coast guard base at San Diego said the wind reached a velocity of 43 miles an hour, and that while the average rainfall was .94 of an inch, it was as much as 2.25 inches in the back country.

Falling trees suspended telephone communication across the Mexican border, and flooded streets caused sewer cave-ins in north Long Beach and the nearby California Heights section, where 1.43 inches of rain fell. Los Angeles reported 1.42 inches of rain.

ASK INDICTMENT OF VETERAN CITY EMPLOYE TODAY

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright said yesterday he would appear today before the grand jury and seek indictments charging confidence game against John T. Malahy, 53 years old, a city employé for the last twenty-seven years. Wright said he had received nine complaints that Malahy accepted more than $2,000 to get state and city jobs for friends and neighbors. Malahy, who was an assistant superintendent in the water extension bureau, was arrested Friday after he had been sought for three months. Police said he admitted taking the money and using it to bet on horse races.

HORNER EXPLAINS NEED FOR FUNDS TO HELP JEWRY

The need of funds for relief and rehabilitation of European Jewry was told by Gov. Henry Horner last night at the annual meeting of the Community Council of the Jewish Charities of Chicago, in the Standard club. More than 1,000 persons attended the meeting held in behalf of the campaign to raise $750,000 in Chicago, principally for such work.

The following officers were reelected: Charles Weinfeld, president; Dr. S. S. Hollender, Samuel L. Haas, and Walter Erman, vice presidents; Edwin B. Mayer, treasurer, and Herzl Friedlaender, secretary.

THE PROMOTION OF FEAR.

In summarizing the reasons for the Roosevelt depression we said that fear is first among them. "Fear, today as always, has to be overcome before any one will embark on any new enterprise. When to the normal fear of failure is added fear of the unknown and fear of government hostility, the obstacle is too great to be overcome."

Fear is omnipresent today. It is reflected in the current depressed prices in the stock and commodity markets, of course. It is reflected even more strikingly in the stagnation of the markets for new capital. New capital is not being sought because business men are afraid to undertake additional responsibilities. In the fortnight ending Feb. 19 not a single new bond issue of a private corporation was placed on the market.

In the entire month of January, this year, new bond issues of corporations amounted to less than 39 million dollars [the corresponding figure for 1937 was 63 million dollars]. New issues of common and preferred stocks this January totaled a little more than 6 million dollars in contrast to a total of more than 30 million dollars a year ago.

That is one measure, and perhaps the best measure, of the prevailing fear. Another is provided by an ingenious comparison worked out recently by Col. Ayres of the Cleveland Trust company. When business men have confidence in the future, he showed, second grade bonds tend to rise in price and the yield of these bonds therefore tends to fall toward that of the gilt-edged group. When fear is prevalent, money flows from the second grade issues into the first grade with the result that the disparity between the yields is widened. He calls the narrowing or widening of this gap the index of fear. The wider it grows, the greater the prevalence of fear. Today the gap is wide.

When men are thoroughly frightened they generally do one or the other of two things: Either they flee in a panic or they are frozen into inactivity. The flight of capital from second grade to gilt-edged bonds is an evidence of one type of fear psychosis. The stagnation of the new capital markets illustrates the other.

Spokesmen for the administration pretend that Americans have been seized by hysteria and are shrinking from the shadow of a shade, when there is nothing in the real world to be alarmed about. It is difficult to believe that this kind of talk convinces any one. The plain fact is that this administration has promoted fear. Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly been warned of the consequences he was bringing on the country, but persisted in his policies. That is why this depression bears his name.

He is spending nearly half a billion dollars in the Tennessee valley and even more in the Columbia river basin to create competition for existing power companies. He has projected the extension of this movement to the rest of the country, and it is no secret that many of his most influential advisers believe that nationalization of the power services is to be only the first step toward socialism. In the face of this existing and potential competition and the threat of confiscation which it implies, it would be remarkable, indeed, if persons who had saved their money had much confidence today in business investments. These people save their money precisely because they are fearful of the future. Mr. Roosevelt, instead of allaying their normal fears, has heightened them.

The irresolute and contradictory policies pursued by the administration in its efforts to control money and credit have worked to the same end.

The imposition of new restrictions on freedom of business management has likewise raised doubts about the future earning power of business. Mr. Roosevelt's policies have been directed toward making business less profitable and therefore toward reducing the security of fixed interest investments and the value of equities. Investors have read the warning and have acted upon it. They could not fail to see in the effort to pack the Supreme court a step toward the circumventing of constitutional safeguards for investors' rights. Though he failed there, his subsequent appointments to the court have not been of a character to quiet the alarm.

The tax laws have been a major cause for fear. They will be discussed in greater detail in a subsequent editorial.

BRIDGES CAN BE BEAUTIFUL.

The completion of the third pavement of Lake Shore drive, between Belmont avenue and Grace street, may be delayed by a conflict of opinion. Every one is agreed upon a separation of the pedestrian and vehicle levels. The quarrel is between the owners of property in the neighborhood who favor the construction of tunnels and the motoring interests which favor the construction of half a dozen pedestrian bridges over the street. The property owners say the bridges will be unsightly; the reply is that funds are limited, the cost of tunnels is relatively high, and the public prefers bridges to tunnels anyway.

Without entering too deeply into the merits of the controversy it can be said that the advocates of bridges would find themselves in a much stronger position if they could assure the community that the bridges would be as handsome architecturally as bridges can be. Far from detracting from the appearance of the street, bridges, if properly designed and justly spaced, might add interest. There are half a dozen architects in Chicago who have the taste and skill to make the most of the opportunity. Unfortunately for the community these men have seldom been retained for public work. If one or several of them were employed to design the proposed bridges the property owners might prove less hostile to the proposal.

SHALL WE ACCEPT WHAT JAPAN RESISTS?

Military ridden Japan has still enough individualism and democracy to put up a stout fight against the army's attempt to force the passage of an industrial mobilization bill by parliament. The defense against the dictatorial usurpation was so stubborn and the uproar so great that the lower house of the diet had to adjourn. The civilian party leaders said that the mobilization bill would put the disposal of private activities, property and goods entirely within the government's hands and allow it to control production and commerce as it pleased.

Japan, as is well known, has not declared war. What is happening in China is called the Chinese incident or episode. As an episode it is still remote from its conclusions but still it is not a war. In our country such a state of affairs could be brought about without a declaration of war by congress if, of course, some means could be found of getting supply bills for it through the legislative body, and on a minor scale we have had such incidents.

One was with Mexico. Mr. Wilson started in Mexico just what Japan is doing in China. Vera Cruz was his Shanghai and the Rio Grande his Yellow river. Although this war is no war, it is generally understood that the Japanese are finding it a considerable economic strain to maintain numerous armies, widely extended over Chinese territory, and it is a natural thing for a military autocracy to try to seize the country's resources and productive facilities and bend them all arbitrarily to the prosecution of its program.

That the civilian parties are able to resist so stubbornly in a country whose foreign policy is so completely dominated by the army and navy is remarkable, and it reveals an astute sense of the peril contained in such a bill of governmental supremacy. If the Japanese, who are accustomed to military dictatorship, find a great cause for alarm in such a measure and are willing to take all the personal risks which opposition might invite, what shall Americans think of similar proposals pending in their own congress with powerful interests in support of them, many of these interests being quite misguided? There is a personal risk in the Japanese opposition because on several occasions the military zealots have demonstrated that they will resort to assassination. That happened just two years ago when ministers were murdered in an army revolt.

For three years here congress has been on the verge of passing a military dictatorship bill. A number of them have been introduced, both in the house and senate, by such members as McSwain, Shepherd, Connally, Nye, Hill, Maverick, Fish, and Borah. The proposition is an all too tempting morsel for the government, and although our army is nonpolitical it must have a secret yerning for the powers it would get. The American Legion has been misled to support the proposition by its dislike of what is called war profiteering and its desire for adequate national defense.

The bills vary in their terms, but the general intent of the program is to have the government take over the productive and distributive facilities of the country in a national emergency such as war. As has been seen, it need not be a war to which congress has given its consent but anything which has been brought about by administrative action. Then, if we had such a law containing the real purpose of the major proponents of the bills, all activities would pass over to the control of the central government.

Business management would be conscripted, quotas of production given, prices regulated, costs determined, salaries fixed, and alleged delinquents in any enterprise subjected to court martial. A complete dictatorship would be created, and one has only to take such a recent incident as the complete disruption of the coal business to realize what the sudden subjection of every activity in the United States to governmental control would do to the nation in time of emergency.

Some people think they like these prospects because they conclude that war would be prohibited, others because they think certain ill-intentioned people would be badly punished, others because they believe the burdens of war would be equitably distributed, every one suffering up to the hilt. Some are foolish enough to think that nothing permanently autocratic would flow out of this experience. Some believe a highly efficient national defense mechanism would be produced. All are misguided. Nothing but great evil could possibly result, and if the Japanese can see that so clearly that their civilian leaders will risk even their lives in opposing it, shall Americans, who are as yet further away from danger, lightly consent because they are blinded by illusions and prejudices and false notions of what constitutes welfare in peace or strength in war?

Editorial of the Day

HONORING MRS. LINCOLN.

[Illinois State Register.]

Frequently these days when the life and service of Abraham Lincoln are very much in mind and heart there appears some interview or book presenting something of a sensational character to present Lincoln in some new light, or to cast reflection upon the character of Mrs. Lincoln.

It is strange that old stories of Mrs. Lincoln's real or imaginary faults can be revived and exploited through some commercial venture in alleged literature and obtain so much space in the public prints. Newspapers accept it as "news" and thus give encouragement to a rehashing of stories which can hardly be dignified by the word "gossip."

It would be well, as this community pays respect to Mr. Lincoln, to bestow some honor upon the memory of Mrs. Lincoln, at least by respecting her as the wife of Mr. Lincoln and the mother of their children.

Community resentment against a revival of the old gossip about Mrs. Lincoln is justified. That resentment should take the form of expressions of respect for her and at least prompt the press to decline to repeat those stories year after year. We confess to a dereliction in the past and pledge avoidance in the future.

REMEMBER DE JONGHE'S—or aren't you old enough? It was the restaurant on East Monroe street known to the epicures of the middle west from the '90s to 1919. Owned by a Belgian family, brothers, sisters, and mother, they guarded the recipes and kept a sharp eye to the glitter of the glass, the whiteness of the napery, and the luster of the crimson velvet carpet. Today you can eat shrimps and oysters de Jonghe and pompano en papilotte stuffed with shrimps and crabmeat and mushrooms in an unpretentious little restaurant far out on the south side of Chicago run by a nephew of the De Jonghes. His name is Julian Vlaming—Jules to his friends—and he makes all the famous De Jonghe sauces himself on his own kitchen stove above the restaurant, following the family tradition of keeping them secret.

IN THE MORNING MAIL (from Joseph C. Ryan): "'I'm leaving Chicago once and for all, Bill declared. 'All I do here is go to the movies, listen to the radio, and read the same newspaper day after day. I'm going out to the southwest, where I can enjoy the climate, the mountains, and the desert.'

"For a year or more I heard nothing of Bill. Then one day I received a letter postmarked Tucson. 'You should be out here,' Bill wrote. 'This is the only country to live in. We have everything. We get the latest movies as soon as you do in Chicago. We have swell radio reception. I listen to Chicago every night. And we get the Chicago papers only two days late. How about buying a one-way ticket and really enjoying life?'"

Best Retort of the Month.

A Chicago woman sojourning in the southwest met a British painter who told her he had completed portraits of ten of the local residents.

"And I've made them all look like gentlemen," he added, caddishly.

"Well, that was probably easier here than it would be in your country," she retorted.

The Women Are Too Busy to Gape Into Store Windows.

Allen of Austin, lunchward bound, found his progress impeded by the crowd gathered in front of a store window on Monroe street. . . . They were staring at a male demonstrator in the window of a barber shop, deftly repairing runs in a woman's stocking. Not one female to be seen in the crowd, says A. of A., and adds: "Too bad the same cannot be said of the 'Line.'"

Yes, Marjorie, dear, our foremothers were brave,
But now it's the fathers who worry and slave

And due to ma's cooking and pa's loss of sleep,
'Tis for today's fathers that mankind should weep.

APPLAUSE FROM OLDER PATRONS—and a strain of reminiscence when Bandsman Louis Panico plays "Wabash Blues" at the College Inn. It was in 1921 that the trumpeter—then with Isham Jones' orchestra—playing in the same room, popularized "Wabash Blues." 1921 . . . Fanny Brice was singing "My Man"—it was new that year. So was Al Jolson's "My Mammy." Other favorites were "Tuck Me to Sleep in My Old Kentucky Home" and "Second Hand Rose." It wasn't until the following year that "Three o'Clock in the Morning" was hummed by a nation. . . . Eva Le Gallienne was appearing as Julie in "Liliom" in 1921 and Jane Cowl in "Smilin' Through." Ethel Barrymore in "Declassé" had one of her best vehicles; Doris Keane had revived "Romance." Women were wearing georgette blouses—beaded—Heaven help us! Obese, cigar-smoking Amy Lowell had brought out a new volume of verse, everybody was reading "Simon Called Peter," and Peggy Hopkins was suing for divorce from Stanley Joyce. . . . All this brought on by hearing "Wabash Blues." And to some the piece meant "Rain" and the phonograph record of it the minister's wife played over and over again in the second act while the rain dripped monotonously. One of these was Katherine Krug, at a ringside table with a reminiscent look in her blue eyes. She played in a Chicago production of "Rain."

A MORE POWERFUL INSULIN.

RADIOS, airplanes, and streamline trains have knit the world into a compact whole and have influenced the lives of all of us. But remarkable as are these scientific achievements, the discovery of insulin—to the one who has diabetes—transcends them all. We scarcely can realize that before the advent of this extraordinary remedy the malady in a child meant death within a year. Today the life expectancy of this group has been extended more than a generation.

Even greater progress has been made within the last two years through the development of a substance by Hagedorn of Copenhagen—called protamine insulin. With this form of the drug one injection per day with many patients will take the place of several of the older solution. Hagedorn's compound is now combined with zinc which still further stabilizes it, makes it more certain in performance, and gives more lasting effects.

Ordinary insulin can be depended upon for about eight hours, sometimes less; whereas this improved type will protect for 24 hours or longer. What a feeling of security the present day diabetic must have when he wakens in the morning with a normal blood sugar and without the reactions which took place frequently with the first formula.

Every sufferer must keep in mind that the action of protamine is so much slower and more regular that the diet must be adjusted accordingly. This means that no single meal should represent an overload of food—rather there should be three moderate meals, plus three in-between or smaller snacks. Furthermore, exercise must not be neglected. The patient is so nearly like the average person that he requires carbohydrates because he can use them. If no physical activity is indulged in, starches at mealtime will need to be restricted.

I know that some one will ask, "Is this miraculous preparation free from what we diabetics have experienced occasionally—namely, a reaction?" Not entirely, but untoward consequences come on less abruptly and hence are much less severe. There are two cardinal signs of trouble—nausea and headache. The first warning is unfortunate in a way because it may persist for hours and reduce the desire for food. But here again, orange juice or ginger ale may be given, whereupon the discomfort will often disappear.

When they do come, symptoms are more likely to occur in the middle of the afternoon or during the night. If there is the slightest trend in this direction, from one to four teaspoonfuls of corn sirup administered between meals or on retiring will usually prevent them. Cheese, starchy material, nuts, or milk may serve the same purpose. Nevertheless, the safety of the newer product is far greater because both the patient and the doctor have much more time in which to combat undesirable manifestations.

It is not easy to change from regular to protamine insulin. Those who are successfully handling the disease with the pioneer drug need not transfer their allegiance. The switch, if it seems desirable, can be made, however, if the patient is willing to spend two weeks or so in a hospital where he can be under accurate and continuous observation. As a rule, both varieties will be given for a while whereupon the first prescription is dropped as the second begins to take hold.

To conquer diabetes the victim has only to learn the rules of the game—a study calculated to tax his wits, but which is within the grasp of practically every one. It is far more fascinating than "contract," as the stake is high—comfort, efficiency, even life. Listening to the confabs of seasoned players is like attending a convention of food chemists, so glibly are technical terms bandied about. To the uninitiated the values of calories, food ratios, acidosis, ketosis, blood sugar, etc., sound like so much Sanskrit, but to those who "sit in" they are the A B C's of a new learning.

We have a list of books on diabetes, written for the layman, which we will be glad to send on receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

HOUSEMAID'S KNEE, PERHAPS.

R. B. S. writes: What would cause swelling of the kneecap? It puffs up quite large with the feeling of being filled with fluid.

REPLY.

You may have a bursitis, which means inflammation of the sacilke structure which serves to protect both the kneecap and the knee joint. Bursitis in this area is known as housemaid's knee. The cause is long-continued pressure. Treatment is by rest, hot applications, or surgical removal.

PROBABLY OTHER CAUSES.

G. W. writes:

1. Is it possible that a chronic appendicitis could cause gastritis and a severe nervous disorder in the entire body?

2. Do you think that through removing the appendix the gastritis and nervous condition will disappear?

REPLY.

1. Yes, but other conditions probably enter into the puzzle.

2. Utterly unable to even hazard a guess. A dozen other causes may be present.

OLD AGE PENSION.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I applied for an old age pension and [1] was told I had to give to the government the mortgage on my home and my insurance in order to obtain it. If a person is badly in need of it and that person has a small insurance which he barely manages to keep paid and a heavy mortgage to pay [2] could he apply for it?

3. Is it true that the government will take away his insurance and mortgage?

J. L.

1. We doubt if this was the exact wording. It seems probable that you were merely told that your assets were substantial enough so that you were not eligible for the pension.

2. Of course he could apply, but you should recognize that it is hardly logical for him to be receiving the pension money in order to make insurance payments which will pay cash at his death to other parties.

3. The pension officials with whom you have talked are in a better position to advise you than we are.

THE GILBERTSVILLE DAM.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 24.—The government is contemplating building a high dam at Gilbertsville, Ky., which is twenty miles above the mouth of the Tennessee river and 185 miles below the Pickwick dam. The valley is from 5 to 15 miles wide, very fertile, needing no irrigation, and is fertilized each year by the annual overflow and needs no fertilization, and will grow anything that is grown in the temperate zone, including cotton. This proposed dam will be seventy feet high from low water and will create a lake that will back up along the fertile creek and small river bottoms some 15 to 20 miles, in many instances, from the river itself, and will be a terrible destroyer of our natural resources.

There are many reasons why this dam should not be built, of which the following are a few:

1. Destruction of some 12,000 farms; driving 4,000 families or 20,000 people from their homes; destroying about 175 miles of improved highways, 40 miles of railroads, 10 towns and villages and 3 costly railroad bridges.

2. A seventy foot dam will cover up forevermore around 2,000,000 acres of fertile valley land, about half of which is in valuable soft and hardwood forests, and will leave only poor hill land for these citizens to dig a living from for generations to come.

3. Destruction of hundreds of valuable mussel beds which gives employment to thousands of poorer citizens, laborers and renters in this territory who make a decent living from early spring to late fall digging mussels for which they get $20 to $30 per ton, and they can dig at least a ton per week.

As for the hydroelectric power it might develop, and which is not needed, there is enough of potential power at the Pickwick, Wheeler and Wilson dams to supply electricity for a radius of over 100 miles in this valley to ten times the present population for 100 years to come. Why spend $112,000,000 of our tax funds on something that produces such awful destruction of our natural resources and deprive this and future generations from making a living from this rich, fertile land?

As for flood control, every thinking citizen and practical engineer in this part of the country knows that it will not decrease the annual overflow we have in this valley as much as one inch at the crest, and the excuse that we must build this dam for flood control is simply a lot of false propaganda.

We are now nearly 40 billion dollars in debt and would have to borrow the money to spend on this useless, expensive and destructive project, and it is nothing less than criminal.

COMMITTEE OF DEMOCRATIC TAXPAYERS.

THEATRICAL SECOND TABLE.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Recently you published an excellent editorial regarding the fact that Chicago was far behind in receiving such new motion pictures as "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

I think it would be timely for you to supplement this editorial with one regarding the shabby treatment Chicago subscribers are receiving this year from the Theater Guild.

We were promised the delightful "Tovarich," but instead were given a boresome play called "Wine of Choice," which in no way could be considered a substitute for "Tovarich."

"Amphitryon 38" was scheduled and we had literature which glowingly described the allurements of the Lunts, the cleverness of the dialog, and what have you. We are now informed that Chicago subscribers are not to be favored with "Amphitryon," but instead with a play which, by a miracle, has made a hit, namely, "Father Malachy's Miracle." Furthermore, we are to have "Julius Caesar" as a substitute for a third play which would bring us Sylvia Sidney; I do not recall the name of it at present.

Evidently Chicago tastes and the money with which to satisfy those tastes are not to be considered on a par with eastern taste and money. It seems to be the same old story of the effete east and the crude, easily satisfied middle west. Indeed, as you said, we have been relegated to the back steps.

[MISS] VERA O'HORAN.

HE SAID HE HAD OVERCOME THAT ONE.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—I note that in your leading editorial in today's TRIBUNE you speak of the Roosevelt depression. Is it not a fact that the depression of which you speak began in 1929, quite a while before Roosevelt became President?

J. M. GUILLIAMS.

THE NAZI MEETING.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Being an old reader of your paper and an advocate of fair play, I feel it my duty to protest the misrepresentation of facts in today's TRIBUNE regarding last night's Nazi meeting.

The only reason for attending the meeting was to find out for myself if the speeches were anti-American, as the press would lead one to believe. The meeting was orderly throughout, and the rousing cheers of the huge crowd provided the only reasons for short delays in the well delivered speech of Mr. Kunze. Three well known Chicago leaders of the Spanish-American, American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars organizations were present to observe and to criticize. Two of those men made a short speech and specifically stated that Mr. Kunze's speech was 100 per cent American.

The speaker answered all questions from the audience as long as time would permit, and ignored no questions, as your report states. The disorder occurred after the meeting had been closed and was caused by a couple of young punks who were set on giving the Red salute. The police made short order of them. As to the Nazi salute, I stood within two feet of a Storm Trooper and gave no salute, and was not even favored with a dirty look.

It also seems strange why your reporter forgot to mention the fact that the meeting was opened by singing our national anthem and closed with three hails for President Roosevelt.

O. H. HEINS, M. D.

CUPID GETS THE BUM'S RUSH.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—If a couple parks in plain view of people to make love they are gaped at. If they park away from houses they are "criminals." Today a fellow doesn't have money for shows and dances, and if a girl is rooming some place and cannot entertain her fiancé, where can they go?

My fiancée can't entertain me, so we sit in my car. We parked at a respectable distance to avoid annoying residents, but the squad told us we were reported as a "suspicious" car. Then the other night we parked on an unused street, in a quiet section away from houses. It was peaceful and very pleasant. At last we had a place! But up came another squad car, lights doused. We were separately questioned like criminals for almost an hour. They tried to make us admit something that wasn't so. We were then told to "offer" something. They took the 89 cents we scraped up between us, and said, "Beat it!" Now we can't even kiss without her getting the jitters. We are fugitives, with no place to go. Or, is there some place?

27 OUT OF 28.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—A young man who is now employed by that vast enterprise, PWA, just informed me that out of his class of twenty-eight young men that graduated from high school, twenty-seven work for the Public Works administration. It appears one has an $18 per forty-eight hour week job that he wishes to quit. Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong.

From Across the Sea

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—Eloquent illustration of the manner in which Germany's young are being made aware of the serious sides of life are the following excerpts from the copybook of Helga, a Berlin schoolgirl of 9 years: "Food directives for the month of January, 1938: Increased consumption is desirable of potatoes, fish, marmalade, artificial honey, skimmed milk, cottage cheese, buttermilk, albumen cheese, and Limburger cheese."

The list continues: "Especially to be favored on our tables are Brussels sprouts, green cabbage, kohl-rabi, salted herrings, ocean salmon, codfish, oatmeal. The following foods can continue to be consumed at the same rate as today: Sugar, rye bread, bakery wares, dough products, beef, lamb, calf, winter vegetables, all vegetables, fowls, apples, milk, honey, and cocoa."

Little Helga is made aware of her country's food lacks by the concluding part of the list: "A decreased consumption must be attained of the following foods: Butter, lard, bacon, pork, margarine, oil, fats, fat cheeses, wheat bread, and eggs." This list was dictated in class and Helga was told to "take it home and show it to mother so that you can all help in Germany's fight for existence."

Helga's notebook also revealed how she is being trained politically in important details of the third reich. In a form of a calendar of important dates she had written: "Jan. 11: New Year's congratulations of Der Fuehrer with the ambassadors of foreign nations in the house of the reich's president. Jan. 12: Hermann Goering and Alfred Rosenberg celebrate their forty-fifth birthdays. Dr. Wilhelm Filchner returns from his four year exploration trip and is festively received. Jan. 13: Three years ago, on the thirteenth, the Saarland people voted. Over nine-tenths voted for anschluss to Germany."

Helga has preserved the records of the 1937 day of national solidarity for her grandchildren in her copybook: "Every year on the fourth of December is the day of national solidarity. The German people this year also proved their willingness to sacrifice. Many statesmen could be seen with their collection boxes on Saturday. For instance, Hermann Goering, Dr. Goebbels, Rudolf Hess, etc. Sportsmen and artists also did service. This year a sum of 7,655,476 [about $5,142,900] marks was collected. In Berlin alone a sum of 633,285 marks was collected. All Germans are proud of this sum, for no foreign country can imitate us in this."

WOMAN KILLED, FOUR ARE HURT ON RAIL CROSSING

Two Children May Die as Result of Crash.

A woman was killed and her husband and three children were injured last night when their automobile was struck by a North Shore electric line train at St. Mary's road a mile east of Libertyville. The line there is an east and west shuttle branch.

The victim was Mrs. Jessie Gratz, 32 years old. Those injured were her husband, Lee W. Gratz, 48, and their children, William, 10; Ralph, 6, and Edith, 14 months. Ralph and Edith may die from skull fractures. All live on the George W. Rossetter farm, Wadsworth, of which Gratz is superintendent. Mr. Rossetter is a past president of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The Gratz car had almost cleared the tracks when the train struck, touching only the spare tire, but this was enough to toss the automobile 50 feet. The Gratzes were taken to Condell Memorial hospital.

Two Die in Crash.

Miss Evelyn D. Jensen, 27 years old, 45 Monroe street, Elgin, a telephone operator, and Nicholas J. Russo, 30, of 1516 North 20th avenue, Melrose Park, were killed yesterday when a car in which they were riding skidded off the slippery pavement in State Route 31, a few miles south of Elgin, and crashed into a steel road marker.

Fred Camaioni, 33 years old, 1208 North 24th avenue, Melrose Park, the driver, and two other companions, Philip La Rocco, 29, and Dominic Fracasso, 24, both of Melrose Park, were slightly bruised. Camioni went home after the accident, and was arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. The group was returning from a dance.

Suburb Power Cut Off.

Niles Center electric and telephone services were disrupted early yesterday when an automobile driven by Clifford S. Ensinger, who lives at 545 Ridge road, Kenilworth, skidded at Dempster street and Kedvale avenue in the suburb and struck a pole carrying high tension electric and phone lines. The suburb was without lights and outside phones for several hours.

William Yarcello, 34 years old, of 610 Arthington street, was killed early yesterday when the auto in which he was riding collided with a street car in Roosevelt road at Circle avenue, Forest Park. Lewis Esposito, 37, of 1634 South Wisconsin avenue, Berwyn, was injured.

Killed by Automobile.

An unidentified colored man about 50 years old was killed early yesterday when he was struck by an auto in Halsted street between 104th and 105th streets driven by John Machowsky, 24, of 9339 South State street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 154 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of this number, 126 were killed in Chicago, where 2,672 persons were injured in the same period.

FALLS 4 FLOORS TO DEATH FROM Y. M. C. A. HOTEL

Frederic E. Jones, 43 years old, who registered from Albany, N. Y., leaped or fell to his death yesterday from his room on the fourth floor of the Y. M. C. A. hotel, 826 South Wabash avenue. His body landed in a yard on the north side of the building. Police learned that Jones had been in frail health. His sister, Mrs. Ina Campbell of Springfield, Mass., was notified.

Three Firemen Overcome in Blaze on West Side

Three firemen were overcome by smoke yesterday as they fought a $3,000 fire which drove three families from a frame residence at 1037 North Waller avenue. The firemen, who were taken to St. Anne's hospital, were Lieut. Edward Banks and Frank Enright of Engine Co. 67, and Henry Brown of Engine Co. 117.

"A PLANTER KNOWS TOBACCO!"

MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS GO INTO CAMEL CIGARETTES ALL RIGHT. THE CAMEL PEOPLE BOUGHT THE BEST OF MY LAST CROP. THEY PAID ME THE HIGHEST PRICE. I KNOW THEY USE THE BEST QUALITY LEAF—AND THAT'S ONE REASON WHY I, AND MOST OTHER PLANTERS LIKE ME, SMOKE CAMELS

MR. T. N. WILLIAMS, well-known tobacco grower

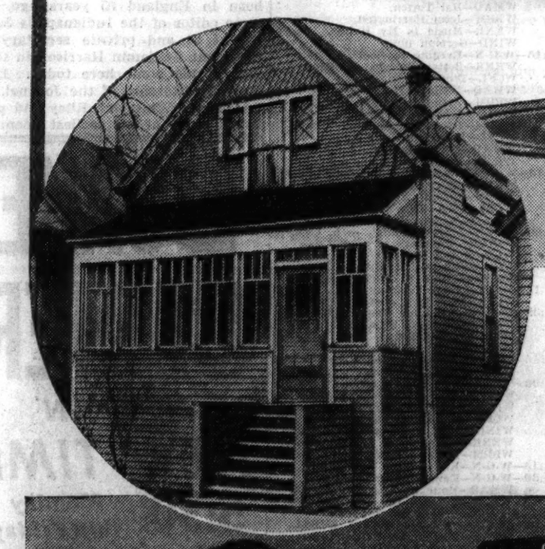
WHEN tobaccos are auctioned off, tobacco planters see Camel buy their choice lots of tobacco year after year. "Knowing the quality of tobaccos that go into Camels, it's natural," as Mr. T. N. Williams says, "for most other planters like me to smoke Camels." If you are not enjoying Camels, try them. See what Camel's finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—mean to smokers.

"We smoke Camels because we know Tobacco" TOBACCO PLANTERS SAY

"My average cost for Electric Cooking is only $2.10 a month"

Says Mrs. Wm. Nielsen of North Tripp Avenue

THE HOME OF MRS. WM. NIELSEN 1708 N. TRIPP AVE.



Special Offer

1. Trade-in allowance for your old stove.
2. Liberal allowance that will cover wiring installation costs in most locations.

Let Mrs. Nielsen tell you in her own words what she thinks about Electric Cooking:

"WELL, first of all I like the economy of electric cooking—it costs me only an average of $2.10 a month for electricity to run the range. That's pretty cheap because I use it a great deal. I bake a lot of cakes, and bread, and cookies. And I cook dinner twice every evening—once at the regular time, for my brother and my two boys. My husband—a printer—comes home later in the evening and I cook another dinner for him.

"Second, I like the way my electric range cooks food. It leaves the taste and flavor in. My whole family thinks that food cooked on my electric range is the best yet. I guess that's because I don't have to use much water. The food is cooked mostly in its own juices and keeps its natural flavor.

"I like the way my electric range saves me time, too. My baby boy is less than 18 months old, so it helps a lot not to have to spend too much time in the kitchen. I just let my automatic range do many of the things I might otherwise have to do myself. Because electric cooking is fast, I save time that way. And it's clean! There's no grime and soot on my pots and pans, so I can wash them with my dishes."

—MRS. WM. NIELSEN, 1708 N. Tripp Ave.

Thank you, Mrs. Nielsen. Electric range users all over Chicago know that electric cooking is cheap. They know food is extra delicious when cooked by electricity. It's easier, too, to get perfect results. The automatic electric range gives them accurate control of heat and time—without watching or worrying.

See the displays of fast, clean, accurate automatic electric ranges at electrical appliance, hardware, furniture and department stores, and at neighborhood and downtown Electric Shops of Commonwealth Edison Company.

JOBS AND WAGES IN ILLINOIS SHOW JANUARY SLUMP

Drop Is Biggest for Month in 15 Years.

Employment and pay rolls in Illinois industry in January showed the largest declines recorded for the month in the last fifteen years, Martin P. Durkin, director of the state department of labor, reported yesterday.

Employment fell 7.1 per cent as compared with December, 1937, and the amount of wages paid declined 8.5 per cent, Durkin's report disclosed. As compared with January, 1937, last month's total of jobs declined 7 per cent and wages 7.4 per cent.

In all reporting industries the total of man-hours worked in January dropped 9.5 per cent as compared with the preceding month, the decline being slightly greater in the nonmanufacturing group than in the manufacturing group, the report said.

The number of persons employed in the wholesale and retail trade in January declined 17.9 per cent from the December level, and the amount of wages paid decreased 15.9 per cent in the same period. These declines were greater than seasonal.

Employment and pay rolls in the building construction and contracting field fell sharply and more than the seasonal amount during the month as compared with December, the drop in the number of jobs being 25.4 per cent and in wages 23.5 per cent, Durkin reported.

The coal mines reporting showed a decrease of 20.2 per cent in the total of wages paid, as against a normal seasonal decline for the month of four-tenths of 1 per cent.

COUGHS!
Get After That Cough Today with PERTUSSIN
When you catch cold and your throat feels dry or clogged, the secretions from countless tiny glands in your throat and windpipe often turn into sticky, irritating phlegm. This makes you cough.
Pertussin stimulates these glands to again pour out their natural moisture so that the annoying phlegm is loosened and easily raised. Quickly your throat is soothed, your cough relieved.
Your cough may be a warning signal from your respiratory system. Why neglect it? Do as millions have done! Use Pertussin, a safe, pleasant herbal remedy for children, grownups. Many physicians have prescribed Pertussin for over 30 years. It's safe, acts quickly. Sold at all druggists.

Gardner Read Leads Playing of Own Music

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Gardner Read, as a name, means something to the concertgoers of such distant places as New York and Rochester. It is even beginning to mean something in Chicago, his home city, for this 25 year old Evanstonian has had two of his works produced by resident orchestras within the last ten days.

Following the presentation of his A minor symphony on Feb. 17 and 18 by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, the Illinois Symphony yesterday played for the first time in Chicago a prelude and toccata introduced by the Rochester Philharmonic orchestra only last April. A fair sized Great Northern theater audience saw the composer himself conduct.

Batonless and with great drive and confidence, Mr. Read directed his beautifully knit, austerely orchestrated little piece. The work and its creator were well received.

Soloist of the afternoon was Ruth Slater, a contralto possessed of a well focused, richly textured voice which contrasts pleasantly with the dark and boomy organs of so many of her sisters. With Izler Solomon conducting, she sang two excerpts from Saint-Saëns' "Samson and Delilah."

Walter Mills, an American baritone new to Chicago, made an auspicious debut at the Studebaker theater yesterday afternoon. To the delicately calculated accompaniments of Alderson Mowbray, he sang a generous sized Schumann group and two violently contrasting operatic arias. His resonant, darkly colored voice is remarkable for its sensuous beauty and for its variety of possible effect.

His style is flexible enough to compass great sternness at one time and a softly lyrical approach at another. Voice production, though able, gives occasionally the impression of being too self-conscious and full of effort.

The annual benefit concert of Gamma chapter of Phi Beta fraternity brought to Kimball hall yesterday Maren Johansen Hattstaedt, soprano, and Harold Van Horne, pianist. The former's performance of Williams' "Silent Noon" was distinguished by eloquence of phrasing and by a well calculated, floating tone quality well suited to the music. The latter played Chopin with a luminous melodic line and praiseworthy clarity of style.

SZIGETI SCORNS DISPLAY

BY CECIL SMITH.

The world is full of competent violinists nowadays, but the number of these who turn their playing to profound interpretative use are as rare as ever. One of these choice artists, Joseph Szigeti, gave his only recital of the season in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon.

This eminent Hungarian violinist has always disdained all high pressure methods of winning a quick following. It was gratifying, therefore, to see that the audience was decidedly larger than last year's little band of enthusiasts.

Mr. Szigeti does not care merely to show us how well he can handle his instrument. His whole energy, intellectual and emotional, is challenged by the interpretative rather than the displayful side of the music he chooses to play. This conception of the musical performer's job obviously leaves no room for sloppy, half-baked technique. For how can a player truly recreate the work of a major composer if his attention is distracted by workaday technical problems?

In this vein of confident disregard of its mechanical difficulties, Mr. Szigeti yesterday played the unaccompanied Bach Chaconne as it is seldom played. With impeccable clarity he presented his view of this ponderous and elusive masterpiece, giving the music almost unprecedented drive and continuity, yet constantly achieving the most beguiling effects of color and nuance. It was one of the big events of the musical season.

The Beethoven C minor sonata, Opus 30, No. 2, with which the violinist opened his program, was played with equal concern for its bigness of structure and for its demands of polished phrasing and accent. It is not Mr. Szigeti's fault that the sonata is too long and forces the violin to emit many rough and barbarous sounds. If this had been as good a sonata, the audience would have been ready to repeat the ovation given last year to the same artist's reading of Beethoven's Kreutzer sonata.

Endre Petri, Mr. Szigeti's pianist, played with enviable taste and dexterity.

In the subterranean luxury of the Goodman theater Catherine Saurer played an arduous piano recital yesterday afternoon. Though she is a well schooled musician, she does not approach her instrument as one to the manner born. The listener is usually conscious of the physical effort Miss Saurer's playing is costing her. She needs to lighten her scales and passage work, to discover more variety of color, and to use the pedal more sparingly.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

The Week's Wash

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 27.—Darryl Zanuck beat the chemin de fer game for $7,000 the other night, but would have won $112,000 if he had not passed the bank, as it hit four times in a row immediately thereafter. . . . Edgar Bergen's best audience is Shirley Ross. . . . The Josephine Baker marriage is on the rocks, according to word from Paris. . . . California's Gov. Merriam snapped back at George Jessel, master of ceremonies at the Louis B. Mayer dinner. Jessel's references to the gubernatorial race apparently irked him. . . . Anita Louise just missed the fatal crash of Lord and Lady Plunket, who had asked her to accompany them. Instead she kept a date with Bob Abbott. . . . Abe Lyman and Bernice Parks are on the upbeat. . . . Mrs. Eddie Cantor reached New York before her father died. When it rains it pours: the Cantor daughter just emerged from the hospital with 18 stitches in her lip as the result of an auto crash. . . . Barbara Stanwyck and Zeppo Marx, horse breeders, sold three of their colts to Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

Sir Stork will be fairly busy out here, with scheduled landings at the Melvyn Douglases, the Allen Jenkinses, the Bob Burnses, the Dick Powells, the Kenny Bakers, the Walter Donaldsons, the Mervyn Le Roys, the Richard Macauleys, and the Dore Scharys. . . . L. K. Sidney, in charge of the Metro "Good News" program, is off to New York for a hurried trip. Probably to discuss movie policy toward radio as the result of Warner's announcing they are signing off. Just between you and me, the movie moguls would like to get radio to return to N. Y. . . . Eleanor Whitney's heart attack is Barron Polan, Mervyn Le Roy's secretary.

Street Scene: Wayne Morris buying an ice cream soda for Priscilla Lane in Brown's, famous Hollywood ice cream parlor. . . . Fred Allen's fans will like him a lot in "Sally, Irene, and Mary." . . . Bryan Foy will adopt the Ted Healy youngster if Mrs. Healy is agreeable. . . . Hazel Forbes and Robert Paige have iced. . . . Susan Hayward and Bob Taplinger are a new combination. . . . At Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's Joe Frisco tells the audience: "I've been here for five years and the movies haven't discovered me; I'm warning them now that I'll wait only five more years. That's final."

My financial advisers said it was the greatest opportunity since gold was found in California; that it was an investment, not to be confused with a speculative project, a dead-sure thing. They showed me a mass of figures to support their argument that Seabiscuit was as sound as a government bond and reluctantly I agreed to raise $2 to bet on this superior creature. I had half of the money and borrowed the other $1 from the bank by passing along some of my advisers' enthusiasm for my "investment."

With the $2 clutched firmly in trembling hand, your correspondent rushed to Santa Anita. It cost me $5.50 to get in the front gate, another 25 cents to check a topcoat, 15 cents for a racing program, $1.30 for lunch, and a 50 cent tip to the waiter. I didn't figure out this overhead at the moment, but later.

"You are a very lucky person," said one of my advisers. "I have just talked to the owner of Seabiscuit and he tells me that this horse will not only win but also will crack the track record."

He showed me to the place where you bet your money. I pushed in the $2 and the man behind the bars pressed a gadget and up flipped a piece of pasteboard.

"When the race starts," said my adviser, "just look for the horse in front. That will be Seabiscuit. He always takes the lead and stays there."

So you must pardon me, when the race started, for cheering the wrong horse. The race was half over when I learned that the horse in front was Aneroid. And Aneroid was still in front when the race ended. Seabiscuit can and has carried 130 pounds in wind, rain, and hail, but when your reporter put $2 on his nose it was a horse of another color.

Stars' Personalities Save Movie

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

This sugary and not very believable little romance hails from the British studios.

It tells the tale of a handsome Italian diplomat who befriends a beautiful and impoverished English wildcat whom he meets singing in the streets. . . . Unknown to her he is instrumental in carving for her a brilliant career on the stage. . . . He almost loses her to a false friend, but, finally, finds happiness in her life. . . .

The story is unworthy of both Anna Neagle and Tullio Carminati—players who can play, as you're all aware. Situations and dialog are forced. I guess the same comment goes all right for direction. Cast support is mediocre. However—

The charm and beauty of Miss Neagle and Carminati's suave likableness do their part toward making an observer feel not too unkindly toward "Look Out for Love."

See you tomorrow.

Gay Palm Beach Parties Mark 3 Birthdays

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Three birthday anniversaries were the occasion for as many interesting parties in Palm Beach last week—George Washington's, Edward T. Stotesbury's, and Mrs. Marcus Daly's. Mr. Stotesbury and Mrs. Stotesbury were at home from 5 until 7 o'clock yesterday at El Mirasol, their beautiful Spanish home, to observe the 89th birthday of the well known and beloved Mr. Stotesbury. The state of his health made it impossible for the annual party to be as large as it has been in former years and only 200 were invited. Only 200 were there, too, for every one had a little white card of admittance and no one got by the company of uniformed policemen at the gate of the estate without the precious card.

Mr. Stotesbury's poor health had made his friends fear that he might omit the traditional birthday party routine of playing the trap drum when the orchestra played "Dixie," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and "Marching Through Georgia." But he did not disappoint his guests nor himself and he also sang his favorite folk song, "The Old Family Toothbrush That Hangs by the Sink." It was a gala party, just as every one of his birthday parties has been. Old timers say it was an occasion filled with unusual sentiment and interest.

"G" Men on Guard Against Jewel Thieves.

El Mirasol is one of the most beautiful estates in Palm Beach and, although the cold weather made it impossible for Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury to receive in the large patio, as they customarily do on Feb. 26, some of the guests who were wrapped in furs strolled in the patio and gardens. Mrs. Stotesbury, handsome and gracious, was wearing her famous pearls, yards and yards of them.

When one looked at them and at the jewels of some of her guests it did not seem strange that there were three "G" men at the party. They are in Palm Beach, they say, to get their man, the man who has made such rich hauls in the golden playground during the last two years. He does not work at large parties, however, but in houses where the mistresses are out for luncheons, so not wearing their finest jewels. So the "G" men really had nothing to do Saturday but enjoy themselves. I noticed, however, that they kept close watch not only of their hostess but of Mrs. Marcus Daly, who was wearing her mammoth diamonds and rubies, and of Mrs. Joseph E. Moran, the former Mrs. James A. Moffett, whose diamonds are astounding even in Palm Beach, where fabulous jewels are no novelty.

Several Chicagoans at Stotesbury Party.

Among the Chicagoans I saw as I wandered through the living room where Mrs. Stotesbury received and where Mr. Stotesbury cut a big tiered cake to the accompaniment of his guests' singing "Happy Birthday to You," on to the dining room, where tea was served, and then down to the sun loggia, where the bar was, were Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick, Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hughitt, Mrs. Ernest R. Graham and her sister, Miss Edna Fitzu, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morris and their son, Billy.

Lace Is Smart Every Hour of Spring Season

BY RHEA SEEGER.

All the wandering shoppers are enmeshed in new spring laces, the alluring filmy veils that float around all the newest hats, fetching feminine boleros in white, black and pastels, and the romantic "dream gowns," made entirely of lace. The lace wave has reached its crest.

Fascinating, slithering dinner dresses cut with extremely low necklines, long skin-fitting sleeves and a streamline silhouette are especially effective in cobweb black. They can be worn over flesh colored slips, over swishing taffeta slips of charteuse green, black, or ivory, or you can wear dull clinging silk crêpe. As a touch of high dramatics try a silver cloth slip or one of shimmering dove gray satin.

Dance dresses come in luscious shades of bonbon pink or cerulean blue, the dress cut simply with a heart shaped bodice and narrow shoulder straps, and with them the inevitable bolero, very short and snug fitting.

Lovely white lace over white slips are untrimmed models, as are most of the lace finds this spring. Later you'll dance in full skirted white organdies, trimmed or flounced in spider web black lace and with a cape of the same lace. Chiffon with lace is another combine scheduled for popularity.

For daytime and street wear nothing can equal cotton lace tailored as circumspectly as linen. These are cool, decorative, and every shade is available. Lace by the yard is filling an entire section where formerly interested shoppers trailed the stuff only to find a few bolts. Lace returns this spring triumphant as the most romantic and alluring feminine material for every occasion round the clock.

Board Is Sponsor

The Margaret Etter crèche will benefit from a crossword lexicon party to be played in the store of Marshall Field & Co. from 3 until 5 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. John Nash and Mrs. Walter Kochs are co-chairmen of the party, which the board of directors of the crèche is sponsoring.

In addition to several prizes for grand winners, the winning player at each table will take home with her the game with which that table has been playing. Miss Eleonore Thompson is chairman of a group of young women who will be assisting with the party.

The Mothers' Service club of the Chicago Maternity center will hold an open meeting and tea at 2 o'clock today at the Standard club.

Miss Dorelle Moulton Will Wed Easterner

BY JUDITH CASS.

NEWS of a romance that ripened in the sunny south has come from Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moulton of Kenilworth, who are at their winter home in Sarasota, Fla., where they are announcing today the engagement of their daughter, Dorelle Jordan, to Vincent Dykeman Andrus of Stamford, Conn., and New York. He is the son of Mrs. Edward W. Pinkham of Stamford and Sarasota.

Miss Moulton, one of Chicago's prettiest post-debutantes, was introduced to society in 1935. She is a graduate of Ferry Hall and of Sarah Lawrence college.

Mr. Andrus, whose father was the late William L. Andrus, is a grandson of the late John E. Andrus of Yonkers, N. Y. He attended the Berkshire school and Yale university, where he was a member of the Fench club. The wedding will take place in June.

Capacity Crowd to Hear Dodd at Foreign Council.

Even last week the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations was forced to refuse further reservations for guests for a luncheon meeting today at the Palmer house at which William E. Dodd, former ambassador to Germany, will speak.

Mr. Dodd is to speak on "The Dilemma of the International Situation." In the absence of Laird Bell, president of the council, Adlai E. Stevenson will preside.

The next speaker before the council will be Graham Hutton, assistant editor of the London Economist, whose subject will be "Britain and Europe." He will be a luncheon guest on Friday, also at the Palmer house.

Sarah Lawrence College President Speaks Tonight.

Mrs. William H. Bush is opening her home at 1538 North State parkway tonight for a meeting of parents and alumnae of Sarah Lawrence college, at which Miss Constance Warren, president of the college, will speak. The Foster Hannafords are giving a similar party next Wednesday evening at their Winnetka home for some of the north shore parents and alumnae to meet Miss Warren.

The Woman's Athletic club will be the scene of its second annual squash racquets tournament today and tomorrow. Play will be continuous all day both days. The winner of the tournament will receive the Mrs. H. Foster Straw trophy.

German Exhibit Opens Tomorrow With Tea.

There will be a tea at the Library of International Relations tomorrow afternoon to open a German exhibit, sponsored by the board of trustees of the library and by the officers of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation.

The American Opera society will meet at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Lake Shore Drive hotel to hear excerpts from Ernest T. Carter's light opera, "The Blonde Donna," followed by luncheon.

The English Speaking union will entertain at tea at the Arts club Thursday for Maurice Evans, appearing currently in "King Richard II."

GUNHAMMERED GOLD

By Luke Short

[Copyright: 1938: By Frederick Dilley Glidden.]

SYNOPSIS.

Abe McCandless, who framed Poco St. Vrain and made him an outlaw, owns a gold mine on a mountain peak. Two insurance agents, sent to bring down the gold, are murdered by two different bands of outlaws. Two-Way Hornbeck, leader of one band, persuades Poco to pose as one of the agents. At the mountain camp Poco finds Espey Cardowan, killer gunman, posing as the other agent. Shayne, the mine manager, has a lovely daughter, Kate. Cardowan crowds Poco off the cliff and takes the gold. He joins forces with Two-Way. Posing as prospectors, they are given an army escort to Rincon. Meanwhile Kate helps rescue Poco. He confesses his identity and promises to recover the gold. In Rincon Poco learns Two-Way and Cardowan put the gold on a stagecoach. Poco rides off after the coach. Two-Way, double-crossing Cardowan, promises McCandless to lead a posse to St. Vrain and the gold. But Cardowan learns the gold was put off at the hotel and rides off with it, also kidnaping Kate Shayne. When the posse reaches the coach and finds no gold McCandless turns on Two-Way. In an exchange of gunfire both are killed. The mob returns to the hotel with Poco and, when they find Cardowan and the gold gone, turn on Poco. A stranger, Van, appears and announces himself a United States marshal. When the mob turns on him he and Poco take refuge in the sheriff's office. Harry, the stagecoach driver, and a girl called Steamboat help them escape through the roof. Poco rides off after Cardowan. Meanwhile Cardowan, with Kate, boards a train for Mexico. Cardowan forces all the passengers to jump off the train.

INSTALMENT XXXVII.

AWAY FROM ALL HELP.

The door was opened and the dozen men and two women crowded out onto the rear platform.

Cardowan stood in the door, both guns leveled, and said curtly. "Now over you go. One at a time. Don't try to swing up on the roof and don't stall. I'd rather shoot you!"

"But you damned scoundrel!" the brakie exploded. "We'll break our legs!"

"Would you rather get shot?" Cardowan drawled easily, and swiveled a gun to the brakie in one corner.

For three long seconds, the brakie looked him in the eye, then he said quietly, "Yes."

On the heel of his word, Cardowan let his left gun off. The brakie tried to cough, strangled on it, then slumped down into a sitting position on the platform. The old woman moaned. Kate looked at Cardowan, her face drawn in horror, but Cardowan only smiled.

"Who else?" he drawled.

"I'll go over," one man said. "But may God rot your foul soul, you black-hearted bastard!"

This man climbed the rail, holding onto the braking wheel, while the others watched. He waited a few seconds until the right of way was a little less steep, then he leaped to the side. His body plummeted off, hit the slope, somersaulted and rolled over and over and down in a moil of dust.

Every one watched him. He struggled to his feet and waved encouragement to the others.

"Next," Cardowan said briefly.

The others followed. One by one, cursing Cardowan, they went over.

At last, there was only the puncher, a solemn-faced young man, with flashing black eyes, and his old mother standing beside Kate.

The puncher said, "Are you going to make her jump?"

"After you, mister," Cardowan drawled coolly.

"Then you'll shoot us both," the old woman said stanchly.

Cardowan started to raise his gun obligingly when Kate cried: "You can't, you can't! She can't stop you from doing what you want!"

"You better shoot," the puncher said. He put his arm around the old lady and drew her to him.

Cardowan hesitated, his face unsmiling. Then he shrugged and twisted his mouth into a meager smile. "All right, old woman. You can stay on. But your son either jumps or gets shot."

"Jump, son," the old lady said quickly. "I'll be all right. Nothing will happen to me."

The boy's bleak gaze settled on Cardowan and he said hoarsely, "If you harm her you'll never find the hideout I can't reach."

"Go on, please," Kate told him quickly. "Go on!"

The puncher squeezed his mother's arm, climbed the rail, went over to the side, waited a moment, then leaped clear. He rolled down the long grade in a funnel of dust and rock, but at the bottom he was on his feet. He waved to them.

Cardowan said, "Come inside now and sit in the end seat, both of you."

They watched him pick up the guns from the floor and fling them through the windows. When his inspection was finished, he passed them and went out to the rear platform. At the tarp-wrapped bundles with their dusty footprints of the men who had stood on them as they climbed the rail, he only cast a casual glance.

Then he searched the pockets of the brakie for keys. He found none, so he dumped the body over the rail.

Inside, he found the brakie's coat and in the side pocket were keys. He took them, saying, "Stay here. I'm going up front."

As a matter of precaution, he locked the front door of the car, swung across the link coupling, and, switching the Colt to his left hand, softly tried the door to the baggage car. It was locked. He tried key after key before he found the right one, and then he turned the lock softly and waited. Nothing happened.

Now he drew his other gun, held it in his hand and reached for the doorknob, twisted it, then flung his weight against it. The door flew open and he leaped inside.

Two men were sitting down.

They looked at Cardowan indifferently, thinking him the brakeman, but when they saw the guns they rose slowly, the light from the window showing their faces as they paled. Cardowan walked over to them and said, "Howdy, boys."

"I'll open that waysafe," one of them offered. "There ain't nothin' in it but change."

"Don't bother," Cardowan said mildly, looking around the car. He spotted the shotgun leaning against the desk and maneuvered around so that he was between it and the men. Then he flipped their guns out on the floor and said, "Go into the coach."

They obeyed. He prodded them through it, past Kate and the old lady, out onto the back platform and said, "Jump."

By now, both men knew what had happened. Grimfaced, cursing him, they went over the end. He did not even bother to see whether they made it or not.

Then he came back into the car, closed the door, and stood in the aile looking down at Kate and the old woman. Slowly, he holstered his guns.

"Step out here, sister," he drawled slowly.

Kate stood up and faced him, her chin firm, her eyes hard with loathing.

"You gave him a note, was that it?"

"Yes."

He brought his open hand around in a long arc that smacked against Kate's cheek like a whiplash. She fell into the seat, and slowly raised her hand to her face. She did not cry out, and there were no tears in her eyes as she looked up at him. The blow hurt, stunned her a little, but she would have died rather than show it.

Then he looked at the old woman.

"That's the way to treat 'em, old lady. You might have raised a man for a son instead of a mama's boy if your old man had given you a little of that."

The old lady said nothing. Cardowan waited to see if she would, and when she didn't, he laughed silently, lounged into the seat across the aile, built a cigaret and yawned while he did it.

He had forgotten Kate already, now that his first lesson to her was over. And the train, as if oblivious to everything that had gone on, beat its racketing way through the hot sunshine, its pall of cinders and smoke just as acrid, just as black, and it went just as fast—away from all help.

The difference between green and black tea is not a difference in the tea plant, but in the processing method. The leaves selected for black teas undergo a fermentation which changes their color and flavor. Leaves for green tea are dried without being fermented.

The American palate, for the most part, prefers its tea black. Most of our supply comes from India, Ceylon, and Java. From the Island of Formosa comes a semi-fermented tea [Oolong] which is neither green nor black, but has flavor characteristics of both types. This, too, is popular with tea drinkers, for it has a delicate, piquant flavor all its own.

Any tea, green, black or in-between, and there are many grades and qualities, will lose flavor, strength, and aroma upon exposure to air. Tea should be kept in tightly covered canisters, in a fairly cool, dry place. Dampness will start a secondary fermentation which spoils flavor. No matter how well packed in air-tight containers, tea deteriorates with age, so it is best not to keep packaged tea on hand for more than nine months or so.

Tea is a comforting beverage, and it isn't expensive, as a pound package is enough for 300 cups of brew.

The quantity of tea to use and the time to allow for steeping vary with personal preferences, but usually a teaspoonful per cup is the measure, and a three minute steeping is permitted. In any case, the water used should be boiling when it comes in contact with the tea leaves. The leaves shouldn't be left in the tea pot after the steeping time is up.

Hot beverages with a tea base usually are spiced to add piquancy to the flavor of the finished drink. A tea party favorite is Bohemian tea, which is spiced and flavored with lemon and orange juices.

Bohemian Tea

[40 tea cups]
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
6 quarts boiling water
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons orange pekoe tea
1½ cups orange juice [6-8 oranges]
¾ cup lemon juice [3-4 lemons]

Tie ground spices loosely in a muslin bag. Add spices and sugar to boiling water, and boil for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Tie tea in muslin bag and add to sirup. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Remove spices and tea bag. Add fruit juice. Serve hot.

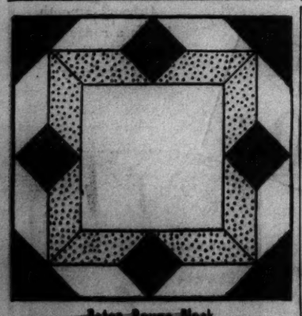
The Housewife

Crab flakes in a creamy sauce, lobster a la Newburg, or any other delicious fish concoction tastes twice as good when it's prepared in a large, white, shallow shell. And we mean a real shell, too.

These dainty baking dishes are available at most reasonable prices. Some came packed in a box that had a recipe for crab meat Mornay pasted on the side, and a dozen shells sold for less than a dollar.

If you like the gay Mexican pottery colors you can get regular, individual casseroles with or without covers in a variety of tones. These are more expensive, but of course they are larger. EDITH WEIGLE.

Quilt Dates Back to Early Period of Steamboating



Baton Rouge Block.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

By Nancy Cabot.

The history of the "Baton Rouge Block" dates back as far as 1820, when a commercial steamboat route was established, running from New Orleans up the Mississippi into the Ohio river. The amazing feature of this block is the changes which take place in the design through the uses of various materials. Originally the coverlet was made of alternate pieced and plain blocks, but later on the preference for an entire quilt composed of pieced blocks, set together with three inch bands of material between the blocks, proved most popular.

Order of Hibernians Expects 7,000 at St. Patrick's Party

The Ancient Order of Hibernians and the ladies' auxiliary of the organization will hold its fifty-eighth annual celebration of St. Patrick's day in the Ashland boulevard auditorium, Ashland and Van Buren street, the night of March 17, it was announced yesterday.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate 7,000 and there will be continuous dancing in the auditorium, card games in an adjoining hall, and an entertainment program has been scheduled. Four hundred division officers of both organizations compose the committee in charge.

Common Sense About Constipation

If you knew that your constipation was caused by something left out of your food, wouldn't it be just common sense to put that something back?

Your trouble may be caused by nothing more than this. For the most common kind of constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the bowels—you need some food that passes on through the stomach without being digested. Kellogg's All-Bran supplies this. It gives the bowels the bulky mass they need to work properly. And All-Bran also gives them the intestinal-tonic, vitamin B_1, which helps restore their tone.

Eat All-Bran as a cereal or baked in muffins. But however you eat it, be sure you get some every day. And drink plenty of water. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

has given a costume ball on Washington's birthday. Until recently it marked the close of the season, but now the season runs far past Feb. 22, but the ball has become a tradition. This year it was scheduled for the 23d, but because of rain it was postponed until the 24th, which was the date of a large dinner Mrs. Chadwick was giving for her house guest, Mrs. Daly of New York, whose birthday it was. Consequently Mrs. Chadwick had to cancel plans for going to the ball. There were others who because of other plans had to forgo being present at the ball, but even so there was a large crowd and the ball was voted one of the most spectacular ever given in the resort.

"Gone with Wind" Motif Predominates at Ball.

The "Gone with the Wind" motif predominated in the decorations, the costumes and the pageant written and produced by Hugh Dillman. It was an all-American party, but, since people of every nation have come to America, the guests had plenty of leeway in choosing costumes and there were representatives from practically every country as well as prim Puritans, colorful red Indians, hoop skirted belles and other typically American outfits. There were no Chicagoans among those awarded prizes by the committee, consisting of Mrs Frederick Johnson [Mary McKinnon], Bernard Boutet de Monvel, McClelland Barclay, and Raymond Kanelba. Young Mr. Kanelba is visiting Mrs. Chadwick, so he was among the forty guests at the delightful dinner she gave for Mrs. Daly.

Is madam dining indoors or out? inquired the maid who was taking wraps at Mrs. Chadwick's, for if madam was dining outdoors she had need of the ermine or fox wrap she was wearing, believe me. Half of the guests were seated in the dining room and the other half in the portique where there was dancing after dinner.

Two exceedingly attractive guests were the Hon. Pamela Barry and Miss Bridget Smylie of London, who were visiting Mrs. Alexandria A. McKay in her charming little house in Via Bellaria. The young English girls left next day for a week in Nassau, but they will return for another visit to Mrs. McKay before going home. Every English person who comes to Palm Beach goes to Nassau, but always he or she returns to Palm Beach, a loyal Palm Beacher told me. An English couple at Mrs. Chadwick's who return every winter for a vacation in Palm Beach was Mr. and Mrs. Claude Leigh of London, who left Saturday for New York to sail Thursday on the Berengaria. Mrs. Leigh, an exquisite blonde, showing her Nordic ancestry, is the former Myrtle Johnson of Chicago.

Chicagoans Are Seen Everywhere in Palm Beach.

Everywhere one goes in Palm Beach one sees Chicagoans, for they are numerous this winter down here. At the opening of the flower show Friday afternoon in the stunning new Four Arts building there were Mrs. McKinlock, with her house guest, Mrs. Bernard F. Rogers; Mrs. Cudahy, who is first vice president of the Palm Beach Garden club; Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed and her mother, Mrs. John G. Shedd, and their guest, Mrs. Charles I. Pierce; Mrs. Charles W. McNear and her daughter, Mrs. Warren Towle Jr., who were at the Biltmore in Palm Beach for a few days on their way to the Boca Raton club; the John A. Chapmans and the George Voevodskys, who are staying at the Venita; the Ralph Hubbard Nortons; the Bryan S. Reids, who are at the Brazilian Court for a whirl before they go on to Key West for a rest; Mrs. Joseph C. Belden and her guest, Mrs. Hopewell L. Rogers; Mrs. Townsend McKeever, who is returning to Chicago this week; Miss Edna Kellogg, the A. D. Plamondons, and the Franklin Millers.

Mrs. Cudahy had as her guest over the week-end Mrs. Francis B. Crowninshield of Boca Grande, one of the flower show judges. Mrs. Cudahy gave a large party for her Friday night. Mrs. Cudahy won two blue ribbons at the show, one for a stunning arrangement of coconut blooms and berries in a large jar and the other for an economy luncheon table. Mrs. McKinlock was a prize winner, too, for she was awarded third prize in the dinner tables.

Gay Tropical Ball A Benefit for Milk Fund.

Not a birthday party but a party that benefited many little children was the tropical ball given Friday night at the Biltmore for the benefit of the Children's Milk fund. Miss Mary Munn of Palm Beach, New York, and Paris, was the chairman of the committee and everyone was congratulating her upon the success of the ball, which netted almost $5,000, an amount a veteran charity ball organizer might be proud of. Miss Munn is only 22.

Youth predominated at the ball, one of the smartest affairs of the season, for Cobina Wright, 16 years old, and the young John Philip Sousa were among the featured entertainers. Cobina is singing and the grandson of the famous band conductor is leading the dance orchestra at the Whitehall, where everyone goes at tea time, just as everyone lands at Bradley's at some time on Saturday night.

One of the large parties there last Saturday night was a dinner given by Mrs. Graham for Mrs. Chadwick and her house guests, who are, in addition to Mrs. Daly and Mr. Kanelba, Fitzgerald Hall of Nashville, Tenn.; Edward C. Cummings of New York, and Marvin Jersild of Chicago.

Practical Dress for Spring

WOMAN'S DRESS.

This is the sort of practical dress that busy women will like. It may be worn all through the spring and into early summer, and to all kinds of informal daytime activities. It is especially designed for women with mature figures. The square shoulders make the waistline seem delightfully slim by contrast. The V-neck, always preferred for heavier silhouettes, is trimly collared, and buttons accent the front of the bodice. A slim belt encircles the waist, and paneling achieves just the desirable amount of flare for the skirt.

All types of silks and cottons will make up well. You may prefer plain shades, but we recommend conservative prints as ideal for spring.

Style No. 3376 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 38 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

Force Unwise Way to Build Up Discipline

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright, 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Perhaps of all the failures reported to me by parents, the one that outnumbers all others is the failure which follows the attempt to gain obedience through some form of punishment or unpleasantness. Obedience, according to many troubled grownups, does not seem to follow in the train of repeated spankings, scoldings, arguments, punishment in the form of going without dessert, or other deprivations of special delights or privileges.

I get this report from the mothers, fathers, nurses, and relatives of near babies, of young children, of those inbetweens from 6 to 12—and of young people in their middle and late teens.

Obedience gained in these ways is usually successful, if at all, only for the moment. Even then it's negative. Nothing is learned by it. And sooner or later if you have succeeded in governing your child by a system of punishments and deprivations you'll have to give this up. You can't very well go on spanking, scolding, or domineering over the young girl or youth who is getting on toward young womanhood or manhood. It's all a short-sighted way of gaining or attempting to gain obedience.

While, on the other hand, the way of gaining obedience that we've been describing for some days past is based on the long view. With the principles it uses it becomes a teaching process. Under it your child learns, grows, matures. Because of its principles you can use that system of gaining obedience all through your son's or daughter's life with, of course, some surface changes to suit his or her change in years.

Before finishing today's talk I want to advise you who have teen age sons and daughters to apply some of these principles in gaining the coöperation [or obedience] of these older children.

"Understanding the Adolescent" is a booklet helpful to parents. It will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Jessie M. Combiths, 6306 North Paulina street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Jessie Mary, to Carl J. Berst, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Berst, 619 Wrightwood avenue. Mr. Berst attended Northwestern university. The wedding is to take place early this spring.

According to CULBERTSON

THE ONE MAN DOUBLE.

[Copyright, 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Of all the paradoxes at the bridge table [and there are many!] the most difficult for players to grasp is that a profusion of high honors does not necessarily warant a penalty double. Although one example after another be placed for them, bearing proof that one strong defender cannot carry on without some slight help from his partner, they go merrily on their way doubling slams, games, and even less than game contracts, and running into crushing redoubles. The fact of the matter is that two fair hands, in partnership, can wage a much more effective battle than can one excellent hand coupled with a washout. Thus it is quite logical to double freely when you can count on your partner's coöperation, but it is unwise to double, even when holding a strong hand, if the bidding has been such as to suggest that partner holds a Yarborough.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Double	Redouble	Pass
Pass	Pass

Despite West's strength in all four suits, his double was extremely rash. This statement may elicit surprise, perhaps disagreement, from some readers, but let us analyze West's holding in the light of the bidding and see just what tricks he could reasonably expect to take. Clubs had been bid on his right. True, by failing to lead the suit, he could insure that declarer made few, if any, club tricks. But if he did not lead clubs, what suit would he lead? Obviously he would not take many diamond tricks. In fact, the bid over him suggested that his king and queen would be worth only one trick. A spade or heart lead probably would cost him his only stopper in the suit and, thus, he was virtually forced to lead a club. Presumably declarer would be able to win a low club lead with a nine or ten, and this would cost West a valuable tempo. So in the final analysis West would be forced to sacrifice a club honor on the opening lead, and this figured to be costly. The outstanding fact that West should have gleaned from the bidding was that East was completely "busted."

West reached the same conclusion that we have reached, namely, that he had to open clubs, and selected the queen. Declarer, despite West's double, did not feel sure that East could not get on lead with a diamond honor, hence refused to win the first trick. West, praying that he would find the ten spot in partner's hand, shifted to a low club. It was declarer, however, who won with the ten. A diamond now was led to dummy and, to make matters as difficult as possible, West ducked. Declarer finessed and the nine held. Now, since declarer could not be sure but that West had started with four diamonds to the king-queen, he returned to his hand with the spade ace and led another diamond toward dummy. West's queen was captured and the diamond suit was cleared by continuation. West exited with a spade. Dummy cashed his good diamonds and then led a heart to declarer's ace.

Actually, declarer could have made an extra trick by laying down the diamond ace after the jack held, but this would have involved risking the contract. The redouble gave declarer a splendid match-point score, even without an extra trick.

Lovely Skin Results from Care in Youth

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Dear Miss Donnelly: Will you devote one day's column to those of us who were not wise enough to take care of our skins in our youth?

"You can tell women to cleanse skins daily to beware of large pores and other horrible skin troubles, but youngsters will not listen always. They must see the horrible example before they will believe. I was one. Today I should not be bad to look at if it were not for my skin; large, coarse pores on the nose, enlarged pores elsewhere. And now, from harsh corrective treatments, I have fine red lines crisscrossing my nose. Broken capillaries, I suppose.

"I am beyond any dermatologist's help. Of course I am brokenhearted. You may be certain that my daughter's skin is being guarded. She will have the horrible example of her mother to remind her that 'nightly cleansing' and all other beauty editors' advice is based on experience and observation.

"Of course, I do not want my name used, but you may tell your younger readers [and I am sure there are many] that it is hard to sit and read beauty advice and realize that a nose dotted with large pores, like a pincushion, is one's own; that it is discouraging to look at beauty hints and realize that one is beyond aid, that one's skin is ten years older than one's body just because the early years were years of neglect.—Reader."

Thank you, Reader, for your timely letter. Perhaps the youngsters themselves won't listen because the years, to them, that a mother's generation represents are too near the grave to matter. That's the way they talk about 40 and 40 plus, anyway. But mothers have it in their power to prod their daughters into skin care activity. If holding up the horrors of neglect won't serve, they can adopt the opposite technique and hold up the lovely skin the youngsters themselves will enjoy right now and later on from constant daily care.

The last word in argument against those doubters about the value of daily skin care are the middle aged women who never have neglected theirs. We could produce women within our own acquaintance whose skin at 40 and 40 plus is gorgeous and is so only because of fervid daily or nightly care.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

One of our pet lipsticks is a de luxe sort of a baby—you'll pay a bit more for it than for some others, but you'll undoubtedly think it's well worth the money. It's of perfectly marvelous consistency and you can use it all winter without once finding that your lipskin is getting dryer than it should be.

The case is a stunning one of red and blue, with a swivel that works smoothly, with never an aggravating hitch. At least our case has been that way and it's taken plenty of abuse knocking about in purses and desk drawer.

This is in five shades, any one of which is a winner if you're the type. Right now, in this season of fashion that endorses "interesting" lipstick shades we are pretty weak for the Titian. It's a truly beautiful color. We saw it the other day on a blonde who has rather dark skin, and we thought it the best looking shade we'd seen all season. It matched exactly a stripe of cerise in the Roman striped turban she was wearing. It might, of course, be quite unsuccessful on some one else—but there are four other beauties from which to choose and you can experiment for yourself, because this stick is sold over a makeup bar. That cuts down a lot of costly experimenting!

There are cheek rouges to match this creamy and lasting lipstick. The rouge doesn't blotch and it blends on like an obliging bit of satin. The large size container is something to see. It's a huge fat wooden French box for the dressing table. The purse size container is red and blue like the lipstick—very French and very smart. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Carson's Introduces to Chicago the Brilliant New Turquoise Color

"Fiesta" was the first of the informal Mexican type potteries —the first to bring to your table those clear, sun-drenched colors that have since had so many imitators . . . the first to give you the fun of combining them differently every time you set the table. And now "Fiesta"—and Carson's—bring you turquoise! You'll love the spiciness this sophisticated color will add to your table . . . the subtle contrast it will give to "Fiesta" red, green, blue, yellow, and ivory. If you already have a set of "Fiesta" make a point of adding a few pieces of turquoise to go with it. And if you don't have "Fiesta" come in first thing today—we are staging one of the greatest showings of the whole line ever known in this (or any other) store. There are extra salespeople and a score of set-up tables to show you the gay informal nature of this pottery and its amazing versatility. So come to "Fiesta" at Carson's—today!

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

That lamp in the window of the Chicago Blackhawks, which holds their Stanley cup fate, was burning extremely low last night. It was reduced to the flicker of one game after the ruthlessly efficient New York Rangers had called at the Stadium and given them a 4 to 1 trouncing which sent 13,000 Hawk constituents home in a very low frame of mind. Only that one game stands now between the Hawks and the fourth place Detroit Red Wings, who were improving their own chances last night by tying the Montreal Canadiens, 1 to 1.

There was no doubt about the power of the Rangers. They built up a 2 to 0 lead in the first period on goals by Mac Colville and Joe Cooper, and it appeared that the able Dave Kerr, brightest of this season's national Hocky league goalies, would collect his ninth shutout of the season, until the seventeenth minute of the second period, when Jack Shill scored the only Chicago goal on a pass from Bill MacKenzie.

Old Mr. Boucher Helps.

The Rangers made it 3 to 1 on a third period goal by Neil Colville, and then, with less than three minutes to go, they sent on Frank Boucher, one of hocky's ancients, to set up a scoring pass for Phil Watson.

The Rangers suffered a considerable loss in the second period when Lynn Patrick, son of Manager Lester Patrick, came down with a spinal injury as the result of a hard check by MacKenzie, and had to be assisted from the ice.

The remainer of the schedule gives the Wings an advantage over the Hawks in that the Detroit team has eight games left to play to the Chicagoans' six. The Hawks' next opponents are the first place Boston Bruins, whom they meet in the Stadium Thursday night.

The Rangers did not hesitate to announce their scoring intentions. After an exchange of rushes, Shibicky took charge of the puck and shoved it along to Mac Colville. The latter accepted the pass while traveling at top speed, and his shot proved so much quicker than Karakas' eyes that the Hawk goalie wasn't aware it had gone by him until he turned and saw the red light winking. The time was 2:59.

Cooper Beats Karakas.

The Rangers made it 2 to 0 in the seventeenth minute, when Cooper, Dillon, and Smith swept down three abreast, and after a bit of maneuvering by Dillon and Smith, Cooper took the puck and beat Karakas on a short shot.

The Hawks attacked the goal en masse late in the second period, and the charge resulted in the first Chicago goal. Shill fired it after taking the puck from MacKenzie, who was given a well earned assist. The time was 17:11.

The Hawks had a chance when Cooper was sent away for tripping Connolly, but could not take advantage of it, and the period ended with the Ranger defense man still in the box.

New York Is Clever.

The score became 3 to 1 in the fourth minute of the third period, due to a clever Ranger ruse. Shibicky passed to Neil Colville at the blue line and then continued forward, ostensibly to accept a passback. While Karakas and the Chicago defense were trying to figure out when Shibicky was going to take the puck again, Colville was flipping it calmly into the cage.

Manager Stewart then sent on five Hawk forwards, and they gave Kerr a merry time of it, but to no avail.

The Hawks continued their unrelenting assault, but the Rangers retorted in kind, and more than once it was Karakas alone who stood off the New Yorkers after they had stolen the puck from the overeager Hawks. With less than three minutes to go the Rangers decided to have themselves a fourth goal. It was Watson who took the puck from old Mr. Boucher and batted it in past the helpless Karakas. The time was 17:10.

CUBS' SABBATH TOIL JUST GOES WITH THE WIND

Nor'easter Blows, Hills Slip on Catalina.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 27.—A nor'easter with rain, a really rare weather development in the vicinity of Catalina Island, they say, today blew and washed away the Cubs' plans for a rigorous Sabbath of baseball exercise. There was a sight of weather beyond the amount required to keep the rookie pupils on their couches, and when the mountains began to slip there were some reminiscences about last season's landslides which so harried the Cubs in their calisthenics. But Manager Charley Grimm continued hopeful that tomorrow will not bring another day of idleness.

Mr. Grimm became a bundle of nerves as the rain continued, but his hopefulness was perked by the knowledge that this fiscal week of the rookie college is plush time placed into the calendar after announcement of the original plan to start the practice season on March 3. Even if it rains till Thursday, when the regulars arrive, the skipper thus will not be behind his original schedule.

He Still Wants Good Weather.

With all this consolation stuff, Boss Charley is most eager to get good weather so his present squad will be hardened to make things tough for the prima donna squad Thursday and several days thereafter.

Several regulars were heard from during the day. They just called to ask members of the Cubs to congratulate any truck gardeners on the rain. Of course, they were not thinking about truck gardeners, but were just laughing at the prospect of meeting the rookies in no better physical shape than they are themselves.

A nation-wide rollcall has indicated that all Cubs will be on the island by noon Thursday. The second party will include Tex Carleton, who has been wintering in Fort Worth; Phil Cavarretta, who has been spending the off season in Houston; Kirby Higbe, who failed to show up with the rookies; Bill Lee, who will journey from Plaquemine, La.; Ripper Collins, en route from Rochester, via Chicago, and Bill Jurges, who has been commuting from Arkansas points east to his native Brooklyn and other population centers.

Larry French, Curt Davis, Stan Hack, Bill Herman, Frank Demaree, Augie Galan, Joe Marty, and Tuck Stainback all are on the California mainland, according to information received by Traveling Secretary Bob Lewis.

SOX LEAVE TOMORROW

Fourteen players, two coaches, and Joe Barry, traveling secretary, will make up the advance party of White Sox which leaves over the Santa Fe from Dearborn station tomorrow night for Pasadena, Cal., and some six weeks of spring training. The train, the Super Chief streamliner, will pull out at 7:15 p. m.

Although two of the batterymen still are holding out, Manager Jimmy Dykes will have an ample squad to work with when the boys trot out for their first drills on Thursday. The two absentees are Luke Sewell and Sugar Cain. The other two holdouts, Rip Radcliff and Zeke Bonura, are not due to leave for camp until next week, when the second contingent gets away.

Here Are the Travelers.

Tomorrow's travelers will be Norman Schlueter, Mike Tresh, Clarence Finucane, and Tony Resna, catchers; Rupert Thompson, the new outfielder; the following pitchers: Bill Dietrich, Monty Stratton, Dungan Rigney, Bill Cox, Bob Uhle, and Jess Dobernic; Coaches Muddy Ruel and Billy Webb, and the clubhouse boy, Sharkey Collins.

Other pitchers who will go direct from their homes to Pasadena are Ted Lyons, Thornton Lee, and Johnny Whitehead.

The second group of Cubs is scheduled to leave from the Northwestern station for Catalina Island at 10:25 tonight. It will consist only of Billy Jurges, Rip Collins, and Coach Corriden. The rest of the squad will go from their homes to the island.

Golden Gloves Warriors Await Zero Hour for Title Quests

The Fort Wayne (Ind.) Journal-Gazette's Golden Gloves team didn't want to spend too much time getting to the scene of action in the Tournament of Champions, so it took to the air in a Trans-Continental Western transport. Arriving at the Chicago airport are Bruno Rydell, Chet Harter, Bob Crosley, Edward Homan, Tom Taylor, Vic Kramer, Jim Rowan, Carl Kizer, and Trainers Chic Wagner and Nick Ellinwood.

The Minneapolis Star team plays cards to while away the hours before tonight's battles in the Stadium. Left to right: Arnie Christy, 175 pounds; Verne Lyons, 126 pounds; George D'Egidio, 112 pounds; Frank Wolinski, 118 pounds; Willie Osterberg, 135 pounds; Tony Yates, 147 pounds; Ken Pearson, heavyweight.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

ONCE again Golden Gloves moves into Chicago Stadium. . . . We have written this story before, but somehow it's always good. . . . New thrills, new situations, new happenings. . . . Always the unexpected. . . . The Tournament of Champions, a three day show opening at 7 o'clock tonight, is one of the truly great events in sport. . . . Forty-five out of town teams, representing territory stretching from the gulf to the Canadian line and from the Alleghenies to the Rockies, fight it out with the boys from Chicago's south, west, north, and northwest sides, as well as with the champions of the C. Y. O., who qualified automatically for tonight's competition because of the caliber of their own tournament. . . . When we say forty-five out of town centers have sent their champions to Chicago we merely are observing a technicality. . . . Actually the boys who are converging on Chicago this morning are the pick of at least 300 cities. . . . Each of the forty-five established qualifying centers had preliminary meets of its own. . . . One of them, Kansas City, had fourteen. . . . The young men who have reached this stage of Golden Gloves are the survivors of an original entry that exceeded 23,000. . . .

So much has happened, so many disappointments and narrow escapes, so much courage has been displayed, so much heartache undergone, that it is hard to realize, sitting in your seat at the Stadium and watching these strong, nimble, and courageous boys, all that has gone before in the Golden Gloves tournament. . . . Behind are nights of fighting against the toughest glove wielders in town, long trips home nursing bruises, worries of keeping fit, making weight, toil, and trouble. . . . But all that is forgotten. . . . They're now waiting for the bell in the greatest tournament in the world. . . . The magic sound will release them from their hours of nervousness and tension. . . . And not far away is the most coveted amateur prize in sport—a Golden Glove, the emblem of real manhood, the passport to the Chicago team which later will meet New York's champions and still later the champions of Europe. . . . We wish every boy could win a Golden Gloves championship, but that, unfortunately, is impossible. . . . Our congratulations, however, to all. . . . Only the strong of heart advance this far in Golden Gloves. . . . This is called the Tournament of Champions. . . . It might more appropriately have been named the Tournament of Heroes.

Golden Gloves Thump Away in Final Drills

The rat-tat-tat of punching bags, the swish of skipping ropes, and the plop of gloved fists on sandbags were common sounds in various gymnasiums throughout the city yesterday as the champions representing more than forty cities finished training for opening round bouts in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions in Chicago Stadium tonight.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer's eight title holders worked out in Trafton's loop gymnasium under the watchful eyes of co-Trainers Johnny Papke and Ollie Downs. In other years Cleveland has been represented by one of the strongest teams in the tournament. Last year the delegation was headed by the hard hitting Lem Franklin, heavyweight finalist. Cleveland won the out-of-town team trophy in 1934 and 1935 and tied for the honor with Omaha in 1936.

Cleveland's heavyweight candidate is Danny Merritt, colored 190 pounder, who earned a medal as a rifle marksman in the Ohio National Guard unit.

Shortly after the Cleveland delegation left the floor the Vincennes Sun Commercial's seven color bearers arrived to put the finishing touches to their conditioning program in Trafton's gym. The squad, which is being trained by Moon Mullins, professional junior lightweight, reached town without Harlan Nuchols of Wheatland, Ind. The colored heavyweight was unable to make the trip because his mother is ill.

Meanwhile, just south of the loop,

TONIGHT'S GAMES.

Northwestern at Ohio State.
Chicago at Purdue.
Minnesota at Iowa.
Michigan at Illinois.
Indiana at Wisconsin.

Northwestern, which had been pacing the Big Ten conference basketball race most of the season until Purdue stepped into the lead with a victory over Indiana Saturday night, has a chance to return to the top in a battle with Ohio State in Columbus tonight, but the chance is a slim one.

While the Wildcats are engaging the Buckeyes, the Boilermakers, with Jewell Young in his best scoring form of the season, meet the Chicago Maroons in Lafayette. None but the most optimistic Midway fan would concede the Chicagoans a chance against Young and company. The Maroons will have to beat Purdue, however, and Northwestern win from Ohio State if the Wildcats are to regain the lead.

"Big" Game Next Saturday.

Victory is doubly important to Northwestern because of its date in Patten gymnasium next Saturday night with the Boilermakers. This game, which has been a sellout for weeks, may well decide whether Purdue is to occupy the title heights alone or share it with the Wildcats. If, however, Purdue should beat the Maroons and Northwestern lose to Ohio State, the final would be little more than an exhibition by the new conference champions from Lafayette.

Michigan Meets Illinois.

Minnesota, which whipped Chicago Saturday, 38 to 27, still has hopes of a one-third slice of the championship cake. It has won seven games while losing three, but faces a test against the improved Iowa quintet tonight in Iowa City. Iowa's Saturday night conquest of Michigan, 37 to 25, elevated it to fourth place in the standing.

Other games on tonight's full conference schedule take Michigan to Illinois and Indiana to Wisconsin. Neither has any bearing on the title.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

This is the night when amateur boxing's largest tournament, the eleventh Tournament of Champions, annually sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., gets under way at the Chicago Stadium.

Wednesday night, after more than three hundred bouts have been decided in three rings, thirty-two contestants will have qualified for the semi-finals and championship finals which will be held in the same arena on March 11.

In Chicago today, waiting for the opening bell, are sectional champions from forty-five cities and five Chicago districts. They are winners in tournaments which attracted the record entry of 23,000 boys in twenty-six states, and each of them is ready for this elimination which will produce Chicago's 1938 intercity squad to meet New York in Madison Square Garden March 31.

After New York, Europe!

Next May the Golden Gloves champions again will face the champions of Europe in the seventh international tournament.

Diamond studded golden gloves are the prizes these battlers seek. Eighty amateurs, among them Barney Ross and Joe Louis, now world's professional champions, have earned this award. On March 11, eight more will win recognition in the world's largest tournament. And in this throng of 399 contestants which tonight open firing at the Stadium there is only one boy who has a chance to duplicate a championship performance. That lad, Frank Kainrath of Chicago's Catholic Youth organization, is defending titleholder in the bantamweight division.

There will be fifty contestants in each of the eight weight divisions except the heavyweight class. Michigan City will not be represented by a heavyweight. Two hundred boys will fight tonight. The registration breaks all records for the Tournament of Champions and this record is surpassed in the calibre of the competitors.

Sectional Meets Expand.

Teams which a few years ago were handicapped by inexperience now have entered champions who have proved their ability against scores of rivals. Each of the forty-five out of town centers has increased the scope of its tournament. Kansas City, for instance, was focal point for seventeen subsidiary centers from Colorado, Kansas, and Missouri. Nashville held a Dixieland tournament in which Birmingham, Ala., Knoxville, Chattanooga, and Memphis, Tenn., competed.

The list easily might be extended. From West Virginia to Utah, and from Minnesota to Texas champions are ready for the supreme test. Yesterday the boxers overflowed gymnasiums available for workouts. The heavier weight classes sparred at Trafton's gymnasium, at the C. Y. O. center, and at athletic clubs. The other boys, who will fight tonight, limbered up briefly.

Tonight's contestants will converge on the Stadium at noon today where

TURNER, FETTE ONLY DRONES IN BUSY BEE CAMP

But 20 Victory Pitchers Earn Relaxation.

Bradenton, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Lou Fette and Jim Turner, each of whom won twenty games for the Boston Bees last season, were the only drones today as Manager Casey Stengel put his batterymen through a ninety minute conditioning drill. Both of the pitching stars physically are far ahead of their teammates and Stengel excused them from the light session.

Stengel has decided to retain Pitcher Bobby Reis, who can play about every position, for general utility work and give Gil English, erstwhile third baseman, a trial in left field, a position he played for Toledo

FRISCH INJURES ANKLE.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Manager Frankie Frisch of the St. Louis Cardinals revealed tonight he had chipped two bones in his right ankle. The injured ankle has been placed in a cast.

Frisch received the injury while working out at the Cardinals' training school at Winter Haven last week. The Cards' boss said the mishap was not serious and would not interfere with his duties in spring training.

INDIANS OPEN CAMP.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians opened their spring training today with a one hour workout. On hand were Manager Oscar Vitt, Coach Wally Schang, Pitchers Bob Feller, Denny Galehouse, Ken Jungles, Johnny Humphries, Tom Drake, Bill Zuber, Mel Harder, Charley Stanceu, and Al Milner, Catcher Frankie Pytlak, Rollie Hemsley, and Henry Heil, and Infielders Oscar Grimes, Ken Keltner, Tommy Irwin, and Don Gugler.

Coach Johnny Bassler arrived tonight and Pitcher Joe Heving was expected tomorrow and Johnny Allen Wednesday. Pitchers Willis Hudlin and Earl Whitehill are still holdouts.

A'S AWAIT MATES.

Lake Charles, La., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics had only one workout today, then rested while awaiting arrival of the remainder of the squad. All of the infielders and outfielders, with the exception of Wally Moses, who is still unsigned, are expected to join the pitchers and catchers tomorrow.

CAMILLI HOLDS OUT.

Biloxi, Miss., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Dolph Camilli, slugging first baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, was missing today as the Phillies held their first spring training workout. Manager Jimmy Wilson said Camilli was a holdout, but did not disclose the salary asked. "It's so ridiculous it proves to me only that he wants to duck the training camp," Wilson declared.

YANKS REACH CAMP.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The advance guard of the world champion New York Yankees, including Manager Joe McCarthy and several players, reached here today to begin spring training tomorrow. The most prominent absentees from the first squad of pitchers and catchers were Lefty Gomez and Charley Ruffing, aces of the pitching staf. Neither is signed.

McCarthy said the Yankees would follow their regular custom of holding one workout a day, starting about 11 a. m. and continuing until about 2 p. m.

SENATORS IN ORLANDO.

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Manager Bucky Harris and a group of Washington baseball players, most of them rookies, arrived here today to open spring training. Harris has scheduled the first workout for tomorrow.

PETERSON BEATS RETTIG TO WIN BADMINTON TITLE

J. K. Peterson of Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. defeated a teammate, E. M. Rettig, 15-18, 15-0, 15-7, yesterday in the finals of the Chicago Y. M. C. A. badminton tournament.

Dorothy Bock of Hyde Park triumphed over Olga Grant, also a teammate, in the finals of the women's division, 7-11, 11-3, 11-3.

The men's doubles title was won by Robert Murphy and Vince Williams of the Lawson Y. They scored a 15-9, 12-15, 15-8 victory over James Hall and W. P. Wright of the Wabash Y. Mildred Dust and Wanda Novak of the South Chicago Y beat Olga Grant and Joan Strauss of Hyde Park, 15-7, 15-11, for the women's doubles championship.

Olga Grant teamed with J. K. Peterson to win the mixed doubles title from Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rettig, 15-7, 15-7.

124TH ARTILLERY QUINTET PLAYS IN MEET TONIGHT

The first appearance of the 124th field artillery quintet, Central A. A. U. champions last year, will mark the opening of the semi-final games tonight in the Chicago district basketball tournament in the park casino, 3825 Madison street.

Opposing the 124th artillery will be the Nick & Angel five, which won its way into the title round by eliminating the Chicago Collegians. Tonight's schedule:

6:45—Union League Boys' club vs. Shamrocks S. A. C. [Boys under 18].
7:30—Belgian-American A. C. vs. Olivet Baptist [girls' novice].
8:15—Edgewater Presbyterians vs. St. Anselm [church].
9:00—Atlantic Commission vs. Burton Dixie [commercial].
9:45—124th field artillery vs. Nick & Angel [men's free lance].

Wickman and Clovis Shoot 93s in Glen View Event

Theodore Wickman and Paul Clovis tied with 93s for protection shoot honors in the weekly trapshooting contest at Glen View club yesterday. W. O. Coleman Jr. won the straight shooting event with 96. The straight run event was won by R. L. Lasater with 22.

SHINY EQUIPMENT MAY CUT EARLY SCORES IN A. B. C.

BY HOWARD MARTIN.

Usually in American Bowling congress tournaments the booster teams, home towners who average below 875 pins, are given the so-called privilege of breaking in the new alleys. But that will not be their assignment in the thirty-eighth tournament opening Thursday evening in the Coliseum.

The first teams to give the forty new drives their baptism will be forty teams of star bowlers from Peoria, Milwaukee, Elgin, Rockford, and Chicago. If they shoot scores high enough to win the $1,000 top prize in the five man competition, none of the other lineups which has contributed to the record entry of 4,957 teams will begrudge them their success.

Those Runways, Too.

Breaking in new alleys is tough enough—but it is even more difficult when the pins are new, with sharp bases that do not permit the maples to fall even if they suffer an attack of dizziness.

Then, too, the stars must adjust themselves to slick runways that upset the best laid plans for the bowlers' approach and delivery. After the forty regular division teams finish the task of upholding their reputations as experts, another squad of forty teams from the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company will take over the alleys to see what they can do about hanging up scores that will win them slices of prize money in the booster class.

Company executives and employés will be present to cheer them on.

Prep Bowlers Compete.

The two opening squads will bowl between 8 p. m. and midnight.. There also will be opening ceremonies, with speeches by tournament officials and city leaders, with a national broadcart of the proceedings. Mayor Kelly probably will roll the first ball.

Friday forty teams of high school bowlers—and some of them good—will compete for merchandise prizes. All the boys will be outfitted appropriately, with their school names on their bowling shirts. The boys have been entered and equipped by the Chicago Bowling Proprietors' association.

Because of the record entry for Chicago's fifth A. B. C. tournament, the congress headquarters in Milwaukee has not yet been able to release the schedules to team captains, but they will be in the mail today, Elmer Baumgarten of Milwaukee, secretary of the A. B. C., said yesterday.

Other Records Set.

In addition to the five man record of 4,957, records have been set for the doubles and singles, with 8,419 entries in the two man competition and 17,436 in the solo event.

Members of the Chicago Tournament corporation whose work enabled Chicago to establish these entry records are Al Lea, president; Sam Manning, first vice president; Peter Howley, second vice president; Louis Peterson, treasurer; Roy Davis, secretary, and Jules Lellinger, John Quan, Al Sindelar, Lee Johns, Barney Hochstader and William Harders.

C.Y.O. Lightweight Champions Beaten in Divisional Play

Defeat of last year's lightweight champion marked yesterday's second round C. Y. O. basketball divisional playoffs in eight gymnasiums throughout the city and Joliet. The third round will be held tonight.

In yesterday's lightweight upset, St. Laurence, defending title holder, fell before St. Willebrod, 36 to 32, in St. Sabina gym. St. Elizabeth, defending heavyweight champion, trailed 18 to 6 at the half, but rallied to eliminate All Saints, 38 to 25.

EUGENE QUINN, MISS MALCOLM WIN IN TENNIS

Eugene Quinn of Hamilton Park won the men's and Catherine Malcolm of Los Angeles the women's singles championships in the western indoor tennis tournament at the 108th Engineers armory yesterday.

Quinn, top seeded player, triumphed in straight sets over the 14 year old Beverly star, Gardner Larned. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-1. Miss Malcolm defeated the top seeded women's entrant, Virginia Hess Grelle of the Chicago Town and Tennis club, 7-5, 8-6.

Quinn and Herbert Mertz of the University of Chicago defeated Frank Froehling, Chicago Town and Tennis club, and Gunther Harms, Beverly, in the men's doubles final. The scores were 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 6-1, 108.

Outdoor Fans Find Navy Pier Woodland Haven

Chicago outdoor fans, looking forward to summer fishing and boating trips, yesterday attended the first session of the National Boat and Sport show which opened in Navy pier for an eight day run.

Live animals, fish, and game birds in natural woodland backgrounds provided a warm weather setting for the show. Exhibits of the newest types of boats and trailers, boat accessories, and fishing equipment also are on display.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE casting tournament opens at 7:30 tonight when 15 members of the Lincoln Park Casting club compete for a gold trophy and the privilege of competing in the Chicagoland championships Saturday night. Novice casters, women, and fishermen are eligible for events on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Entries can be sent to the outdoor editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, or to W. J. Butler, tournament manager, Navy pier. Butler will be at the Tribune booth in the pier each day of the show.

C.Y.O. Defeats Waukegan for Fifth Time, 8-5

The C. Y. O. Shamrocks, leaders of the Chicago Arena Hocky league, whipped the Waukegan Rockets, 8 to 5, yesterday in the arena for their fifth straight triumph over the north shore entry. In the other game the Chicago Hornets, who hold second place, routed Whiting, 5 to 0.

The C. Y. O.-Waukegan contest developed into a personal scoring duel between Wilbur Savela of the Shamrocks and Eddie Janelle, Shamrock wing. When the three periods' totals had been checked Savela, who picked up six points on four goals and two assists, was in a tie with Janelle for the league lead, each having a total of 24 points. Janelle had five points with goals in the first and second periods and three assists.

sixteen more fighters, eight from the Sioux City, Ia., Journal and as many from the Nashville Tennesseean, were going through their paces in C. Y. O. center.

At about the same time the St. Louis Globe Democrat's delegation worked out north of the loop in the Allerton hotel gymnasium.

Coleman Harwell, executive editor of The Tennesseean, and Thomas McNicholas, secretary-treasurer of the newspaper, accompanied Sports Editor Ray Johnson to Chicago with the fighters. Both will receive their first peep at the three ring show tonight.

Two of the best prospects on the Sioux City team are Clayton Jonnson, featherweight runner-up to Willie Joyce in the Stadium last year, and Bob Morley, lightweight, who is making his fourth appearance in the Tournament of Champions. The 20 year old Johnson, who is a WPA worker, is competing as a bantamweight this time. Morley is given an excellent chance to qualify for the finals March 11 by Dan Desmond, sports editor of the Sioux City Journal, because of the fighter's showing in the national A. A. U. meet in Boston last April. He was eliminated in the semi-finals by Johnny Marquez of San Francisco, who subsequently won the welterweight crown.

Coaches of the St. Louis standard bearers are Paul Spica, featherweight runner-up to Ted Kara two years ago, and Otis Thomas, heavyweight champion in 1934, the year Joe Louis emerged victorious in the light heavyweight division.

The young men competing under the colors of radio station WHO in Des Moines, Ia., journeyed to Northwest gymnasium to do loosening up exercises. The drill was supervised by Hymie Wiseman, former featherweight topnoteher.

Flyweight Beebe Rich is back as a member of the Kansas City, Mo., Star delegation for the third consecutive year. Rich, adopted son of Coach Charley Myers, defeated the trainer's own son, Charley Myers Jr., in the finals of the Kansas City tournament.

ZALE WINS 25 LAP EVENT ON MIDGET PROGRAM

Wally Zale, leading all the way, won the 25 lap feature race on the midget auto racing program at the 124th Field artillery armory last night. His time was 5 minutes 49 seconds. Shorty Sorenson finished second and Art Harstfeld third. Summaries:

FIRST ELIMINATION, TEN LAPS—Won by Wally Zale; Bob Sorenson, second; Art Hartsfeld, third. Time—2 minutes 18 seconds.

SECOND ELIMINATION, TEN LAPS—Won by Harry MacQuinn; Ray Richards, second; Emil Andres, third. Time—2:18.

THIRD ELIMINATION, TEN LAPS—Won by Marshall Lewis; Tony Willman, second; Duke Nalon, third. Time—2:19.

OWENS' RECORDS FOR 100 METERS MAY NOT STAND

PARIS, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Opposition of some delegates led today to reports that Jesse Owens' times of 10.2 and 10.3 seconds for 100 meters might not be recognized as world record performances when the International Amateur Athletic federation meets tomorrow.

Owens' records are among sixteen American marks approved yesterday by the I. A. A. F. rules committee for inclusion on the organization's agenda for its meeting.

Although it was pointed out approval by the rules committee is tantamount to I. A. A. F. recognition of performances of world records, some delegates contended that Owens' time was set with a favorable wind and therefore might fail of recognition by the organization.

Among other Americans' records meeting rules committee approval and placed before the I. A. A. F. meeting are Roy Robinson's times for 880 yards and 800 meters, Ralph Metcalfe's 10.3 for 100 meters, Spec Towns' 13.7 for 110 meter hurdles, Archie San Romani's 5:16.8 for 2,000 meters, and the 14 foot 11 inch pole vault performance by Bill Sefton and Earle Meadows.

136 Bouts on Golden Gloves Card Tonight

physical examinations will be conducted by The Tribune's Golden Gloves staf of physicians. Each contestant will be weighed. At 2 o'clock pairings for the first round will be made.

Seed Big Towners.

In the first round all champions from centers of 150,000 population or more are grouped. Champions from cities of less population meet. After this round the thirty-two boys left in each weight then are rematched for the second round without regard to the size of the center they represent.

The first and second rounds tonight will leave sixteen contestants in each weight, who will fight twice on Wednesday, thus reducing the field to four semi-finalists. The same routine tomorrow night will start the welterweight, middleweight, light-heavyweight, and heavyweight boys on the road to qualification for the semi-finals.

There will be 136 bouts tonight. Tomorrow night, in addition to the 136 fights in the open division, there will be sixteen semi-final matches in Chicago's annual novice tournament. These novice boxers are qualified from the four sections in Chicago.

On Wednesday evening the third round and quarter-finals of the Tournament of Champions will be held. This is a total of ninety-six fights. In addition Chicago's novice champions will be crowned. Each novice winner will receive a golden glove. Each runner-up will be presented with a silver glove.

This boxing congress is not only the world's greatest tournament. It can be seen for as little as 25 cents. Ringside seats can be purchased—reserved seats—for $1.10. There also are reserved seats at 66 cents.

Detroit is defending champion of the team title for the out of town centers. The Catholic Youth organization is defending its team championship for the clubs in the Chicago metropolitan district. Cleveland, Nashville, Omaha, and Kansas City are challenging Detroit for the cup. Cleveland leads all centers in the number of champions in the last ten years.

The best sportsman cups, presented by Joe Louis for the heavyweight division and by Barney Ross for the welterweight division will be decided by the vote of the judges and referees on Wednesday night. These cups also will be presented at the finals.

Spartas Beat Maccabees in Cup Battle, 1-0

BY OFFSIDE.

A goal after twenty-five minutes of play in the second period gave the Sparta soccer team a 1 to 0 victory over the Maccabees in the national cup western semi-final in the Sparta stadium yesterday.

The winning goal was an unusual one, McDermott kicking the ball into the net while lying on the ground. He had slipped on the muddy turf during a mixup near the goal line. Three thousand watched the game.

Sparta now will play the Castle Shannons of Pittsburgh in the western final.

Sparta exhibited a superior attack throughout yesterday's game, only a missed penalty shot by Munro in the first period and exceptional skill by Griffith, Maccabee goalie, preventing a more decisive victory.

NELSON TAKES THOMASVILLE GOLF WITH 280

Metz's 284 2d; Cooper Finishes 3d.

Thomasville, Ga., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Leading from start to finish, young Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., a member of the United States Ryder cup team, won the Thomasville open golf tournament today with a score of 280, eight strokes under Glen Arven's par.

Nelson, after collecting only $520 for his previous efforts on the winter circuit, was on his game here to take the top prize of $700. His sensational first round 66 set the stage for the victory.

Nelson Cards 71—70.

Another young professional, Dick Metz of Chicago, who won this event a year ago, finished in second place, four strokes back of Nelson and one stroke ahead of Harry Cooper of Chicago.

Nelson put the finishing touch on his victory with two subpar rounds of 71—70 today. Metz collected $450 for his runnerup performance. Cooper, golf's leading money winner and low average scorer of the winter campaign, received $350.

Frank Moore of Mamoroneck, N. Y., a brother of Terry Moore of the St. Louis Cardinals, finished fourth and drew $250 for his 289 total. Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., finishing with a two under par 70 on the last 18 holes, came in fifth with 290 and Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., was next with 291.

Serafin Falls Off.

After three fine rounds and a 54 hole total of 215, which left him in fourth place, Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa., took 77 and finished with 292 for seventh money. Just a stroke back of Serafin came Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Texas, and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., a former P. G. A. champion.

ST. BEDE WINS STATE CATHOLIC PREP TITLE, 17-16

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—St. Bede High school of Peru won the Illinois state Catholic basketball championship tonight by defeating Corpus Christi of Galesburg, 17 to 16.

St. Bede, which previously had whipped Community of Sterling, St. Joseph of Cairo, and St. Paul of Odell, gained a four point lead in the late minutes, then withstood a Galesburg rally.

SEABISCUIT JUST A HORSE; FANS IN A QUANDARY

Defeat by Aneroid Dims Handicap Hopes.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 27.—(AP)—There was a slight cloud of doubt over the popularity of Seabiscuit today as the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap drew near.

Turf experts, however, still like Seabiscuit's chances in the big race next Saturday despite his photo finish loss to J. A. Mancuso's Aneroid in the San Antonio handicap last Saturday.

C. S. Howard's horse, they pointed out, was running his first race since last November and a stranger was on his back in Jocky Sonny Workman, who neglected to use the whip.

He's a Distance Runner.

The San Antonio was run at a mile and one-eighth, and many thought that Seabiscuit would have won at a mile and one-quarter, the distance of the $100,000 race.

Charley Rosengarten put Aneroid out in front soon after the start, kept him there, and had enough to hold off Seabiscuit's bid down the stretch.

Whatever the divided opinion, it was agreed that Seabiscuit is no longer a prohibitive favorite to win the Santa Anita handicap.

Public Grows Dubious.

The ballyhoo heaped on Seabiscuit backfired as far as the general public was concerned. It took $5 to win two, and while the average fan snubbed that price, Seabiscuit's failure to win left them doubtful.

The result left Seabiscuit, Pompoon, Aneroid, and the powerful entry trained by Earl Sande, Sceneshifter and Stagehand, in close array at the top of the perch.

There might even be enough ability in a rejuvenated Indian Broom, Top Row, or Time Supply to furnish the leading contenders with a scare.

That's why it will be a horse race worthy of its rich purse next Saturday.

Whalen, Ring Inspector for 4 Years, Quits

Roger Whalen, ring inspector for the Illinois athletic commission, will hand in his resignation today, after holding the post for the last four years. . . . Jimmy Vaughan, 138 pound star from London, England, who is of Irish parentage, will make his American debut in a ten round bout with Al Nettlow, former Chicago Golden Gloves featherweight champion, in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight. Supporting matches will bring together Tommy Howell and Owen Woods, Alex Kettles and Bruno Dooley, Pat O'Brien and Eddie Shapiro, George Nelson and Al Schirato. . . . Joe Corbett, heavyweight wrestler of Boston, will be Fritz Von Schacht's foe in a one hour match featuring the card in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, this evening. Farmer Mack is matched with Paul Miller, Fred Grubmier with Jack Zeravich, Charley [Gorilla] Grubmyer with Walter Palmer, and Jack Roberts with Soldier Thomas.

Maurice Strickland has been signed to meet Max Zona, Catholic Youth organization heavyweight, in an eight round secondary feature on the Jimmy Adamick-Natie Brown program in Detroit Olympia Friday. . . . Harry Thomas will engage Edward [Unknown] Winston in a four round exhibition bout in Des Moines, Ia., Wednesday. . . . Representatives of Alex Kettles have turned down a proposed match between Kettles and Max Marek in Cicero stadium March 9. . . . Billy Marquart will face Harry Booker and Carl Vinciquerra will oppose Webster Epperson in two engagements of six rounds in the show topped by Henry Armstrong and Charley Burns in Minneapolis tonight. . . . Elza Thompson, 1937 Indianapolis sectional Golden Gloves heavyweight, will appear in a preliminary engagement in Madison Square Garden March 11. Thompson is serving as sparmate for Max Baer in Lakewood, N. J., for the former champion's clash with Tommy Farr in the Garden feature. . . . Nathan Mann's showing in the first round of his title bout with Joe Louis is the highlight of the fight movies showing currently in the Garrick theater. F. M.

MULVEY IS NAMED REFEREE OF BIKE RACE IN STADIUM

Patrick A. Mulvey, chairman of the board of control of the National Cycling association, will referee the six day bicycle race which starts in the Stadium Sunday night. Mulvey was elected head of the American cycle governing body last December to succeed Frank L. Kramer.

Mulvey will be assisted by three former bike riders, Reggie McNamara, who will serve as assistant referee and clerk of course; Norman Hill, former all around champion, who will be the second assistant referee, and Iver Lawson, vorld champion in 1905, will be clerk of the course.

Jaskwich, Ex-Irish Star, to Coach Mississippi Backs

University, Miss., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Charles [Chuck] Jaskwich, Notre Dame quarter back in 1929, 1930, and 1931, was named back field coach at the University of Mississippi today. Head Coach and Athletic Director Harry Mehre said Jaskwich completes the coaching staf. He was signed to a one year contract. Jaskwich, a native of Kenosha, Wis., has coached at Holy Cross college, a boys' prep school, in New Orleans.

JEHOVAH BEATS LEADING MESSIAH QUINTET, 27 TO 26

Jehova defeated the first place Messiah five, 27 to 26, in yesterday's Walther league basketball games in the Portage zone. Jehova's victory did not affect the zone race as Messiah and St. John have clinched their places in the league tournament.

St. Luke of Itasca and St. Peter of Arlington Heights finished the second round of the northwest section in a tie and will meet next week for the right to face Palatine, first round winner, for the sectional championship. The women's division competition of the southwest zone ended in a three way tie between St. Andrew, St. Stephen, and Hope. Yesterday's results:

SOUTHWEST ZONE.

St. Peter, 31; Holy Cross, 22.

Ambers Rests Comfortably After Operation on Nose

New York, Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Lou Ambers, lightweight champion of the world, was resting comfortably in the Polyclinic hospital tonight following an operation on his nose yesterday afternoon. Dr. Henry M. Scheer, who performed the operation, the removal of an obstruction in the nasal passage, said that Ambers would remain in the hospital for about a week, but would not be permitted to box for at least six weeks.

NEWS OF FINANCIAL AND GRAIN MARKETS

MESTA MACHINE REPORTS HIGHER PROFIT IN 1937

J. R. Thompson Has $189,538 Loss.

The Mesta Machine company, manufacturer of heavy steel mill machinery and castings, yesterday reported a record net income for 1937. Higher earnings also were reported by the Freeport Sulphur company. The John R. Thompson company, restaurant chain, showed a net loss for last year, and Armstrong Cork company and the Melville Shoe corporation reported a drop in profits from 1936.

John R. Thompson Jr.

Net earnings of Mesta Machine for 1937 were $4,668,021, or $4.67 a share, compared with 1936 earnings of $4,266,964, or $4.28 a share.

"Considering the volume of business carried over from last year," said Lorenz Iversen, president, "and the amount of miscellaneous orders currently being received, I believe 1938 will be a satisfactory year."

Costs and Taxes Increase.

Because of the increase in labor costs and higher tax burden, Iversen said, net earnings did not increase in proportion to the expanded volume of business. Uncompleted business at the end of 1937 totaled $13,074,460, compared with $14,363,088 a year earlier.

Freeport Sulphur company reported consolidated net income for last year of $2,703,742, or $3.30 a common share, against $2,009,784, or $2.43 a share, in 1936. The 1937 net earnings included the corporation's share of net income of the Cuban-American Manganese corporation. This amounted to $261,052, compared with a net loss share of $191,185 in 1936.

John R. Thompson company showed a 1937 net loss of $189,538, compared with a 1936 net profit of $175,583, or 59 cents a share. For the December quarter, the indicated net loss was $69,402, compared with net profit in the fourth quarter of 1936 of $106,487.

Thompson Earnings Analyzed.

"The effect upon business of the current economic and social forces is graphically illustrated in this report of operations for the year 1937," said John R. Thompson Jr., president.

He said that, although sales increased from $11,950,225 in 1936, to $12,525,938 in 1937, mounting taxes and labor unrest, which caused temporary closing of some restaurants, were responsible for the loss. Direct taxes alone, he added, amounted to $520,813, or $1.74 per share of capital stock.

The New York Central Railroad company confirmed preliminary reports issued two weeks ago that net income, including all lines operated under lease, was $6,352,612 in 1937, compared with net income for 1936 of $8,933,175.

STEEL INDUSTRY REPORTS SLIGHT GAIN IN BUYING

A slight improvement in steel buying developed last week, the magazine Steel said yesterday. The increase was well spread over various lines, with light products predominating. Ingot production, however, declined a half point to 30.5 per cent of capacity, with no indications of an important change this week.

Export business in scrap steel has eased during February and prices have gradually moved lower at all points. A further decline last week at eastern ports resulted in a decline of 8 cents in Steel's scrap composite to $13.25 a ton. This is a loss of 65 cents in the composite during February.

Better Wheat Outlook Dulls Foreign Buying

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Distinct improvement in the outlook for a big harvest of winter wheat in the United States has further retarded the export demand for wheat. It the present prospects are maintained wheat prices, importers believe, are certain to be lower later in the season. English and continental European wheat buyers are counting on a good American crop and are holding their purchases to immediate requirements.

A bumper yield of winter wheat is now regarded as a possibility. Throughout the producing belt the condition of the crop has been materially improved by the moisture received in the last three weeks. The seeded acreage is only slightly under the record figure reached last year.

Good Crop Predicted.

Fred Uhlmann, head of the Uhlmann Grain company, says that even if the yield per acre this season equals the record low of 12½ bushels, a good sized crop will be harvested. Assuming that 50 million of the 57 million seeded acres are harvested, a minimum crop of 625 million bushels appears to be assured, he said.

With such prospects exporters are not optimistic over the possibilities of a material expansion in foreign sales of American wheat. Export clearances of American wheat and flour reached the highest figure this season in the week ended Feb. 18, aggregating about 3,500,000 bushels. Since then demand has slowed.

Wheat Prices Irregular.

The trend of wheat futures prices last week was irregular. Corn prices closed slightly below the preceding week's level.

The range of prices in grain futures in Chicago last week follows:

ILL. CENTRAL'S BOARD TO HAVE CHICAGO OFFICE

Directors' Headquarters to Leave New York.

tinius Jr., also a young man who shortly is to become chairman of the board, has been supporting changes in the setup of the world's largest steel company, including that of taking operating control out of New York.

Downs Explains Change.

Downs' formal statement announcing the change said that although the principal offices of the Illinois Central system are in Chicago, meetings of the board of directors have been held in New York, mostly because most of the members had their offices there and could not spare the time to come to Chicago. On the other hand, Chicagoans and others living along the Illinois Central whom the management would like to have had on the board could not spare the time to go to New York.

To remedy this situation, he said, it has been decided to increase the board from 12 to 15 members, in addition to the governor of Illinois, who is an ex-officio member, and to elect a number of new members from along the system lines. Some of the present New York directors, including Harriman, will continue on the board but the majority will be selected from Illinois Central territory.

Opposes "Remote" Control.

"The view has been expressed by our chairman, Mr. Harriman, that unnecessary concentration of industrial control in New York is not desirable," Downs said, "and he has publicly suggested that the direction of business companies should be transferred wherever feasible to the seat of their operations. We are putting that suggestion into effect on the Illinois Central."

Downs said one immediate benefit will be the obtaining of services of outstanding Chicagoans and citizens of other western cities who are familiar with the needs and problems of the Illinois Central territory. He added that no business is more intimately identified with its territory than a railroad.

"We believe the action we have taken will emphasize this relationship in the case of the Illinois Central," Downs explained. "It will give our board the first hand knowledge of the people we serve which is so essential to progressive management, and it should also impress upon the people in our territory that the Illinois Central is truly their railroad and that they have a tremendously important stake in its success."

UTILITY DECLARES DIVIDEND.

Directors of Wisconsin Power and Light company yesterday announced declaration of a dividend of $1.12½ a share on the 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and a dividend of $1.31¼ a share on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, payable March 15, 1938, to stockholders of record Feb. 28, 1938.

Chicago's Trade in January Is Sharply Below Year Ago

Business in Chicago in January declined sharply in nearly all lines, compared with January, 1937, according to the monthly analysis of the Chicago Association of Commerce announced yesterday. Only four of the 25 indices used moved higher this year.

The department store sales index dropped 11 per cent, moving from 78.3 in January, last year, to 69.0 last month. Pay rolls in manufacturing industries dropped from 65.8 to 59.7.

One index to move counter to the trend was that of real estate transfers. Although the total number of transfers in January was 3,291, a decline of 578 from a year ago, the dollar amount involved was $8,411,344 this year against $7,706,804 in the like 1937 month.

An increase also was registered in telephone usage. The number of telephones in use in the city increased 5 per cent to 947,599. New automobile registrations were only a little more than half of the total for January, last year. Electric power production dipped slightly.

FARMERS FACE BENEFIT CUT FOR OVER PLANTING

Announce Regulations for Soil Subsidies.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Farmers who harvest more than their alloted acreage of major crops face drastic deductions in their federal subsidy payments under the new farm program, officials disclosed today.

The agricultural adjustment administration announced detailed regulations governing payment of benefits from the 500 million dollars congress is authorized to appropriate for financing the new crop control law.

Crops affected include cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, rice, potatoes and others designated officially as "soil depleting."

In announcing the regulations, J. B. Hutson, assistant AAA administrator, said the subsidy or soil conservation phase of the farm program was designed to do more than improve and maintain soil fertility. He said it will tend to keep production in line with crop requirements.

Other provisions of the new act authorize the use of a marketing quota system, when approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in referenda, to keep surplus supplies off the market.

Under the terms of the subsidy program, wheat growers, for example, will be paid at the rate of 12 cents a bushel on the normal production from acreage alloted to them. However, if they harvest more than their alloted acreage, deductions from these payments will be made at the rate of 96 cents a bushel on the normal production of the excess acreage.

Likewise, corn growers will be paid subsidy rates of 10 cents a bushel on the normal production of their acreage allotment, but lose subsidy at the rate of 50 cents a bushel on the normal production of any extra acres.

[These subsidy forfetis are not to be confused with the penalties mentioned by Frank Ridgway in an adjoining story.]

Cotton growers face even larger deductions for over planting. If they knowingly exceed their acreage allotments, they will be denied all subsidies.

Trade Commission Procedure.

The basis for most complaints filed by the Federal Trade commission against businesses is information received from injured competitors. Suppose that a company writes to the commission protesting against, say, misleading advertising by a competitor.

An FTC attorney investigates, and presents the facts to a chief examiner, member of the commission's staf. If the complaint is considered to be justified, the examiner usually gives the offender a chance to "stipulate," that is to agree to stop the objectionable practice voluntarily. In the last ten years the FTC has approved more than 3,000 stipulations, only 14 of which required further attention.

If the competitor refuses to stipulate, a trial of the case is held before an FTC examiner, at which time the defendant is, of course, given a chance to present his side of the case. If the complaint is sustained by the examiner, the commission orders the offender to "cease and desist." If this order is not obeyed, the commission may apply to a federal Circuit Court of Appeals for an enforcement order. Failure to obey this order makes the offender liable to fine or imprisonment.

The New Farm Law.

(This is the fifth of a series of articles on the new farm law appearing in this column.)

February 27, 1938.

WHEN a market quota for corn is in effect, individual farmers in the commercial area are compelled to store their share of corn under orders of the secretary of agriculture as provided in the new farm law. This applies to all corn growers within the outlined commercial zone who raise an annual average of 300 bushels and have 100 bushels of corn in excess of their allotted marketing percentage when there is a market quota.

Farmers in the noncommercial area, where approximately a billion bushels of corn are raised annually, are not required to store and seal any corn under the quota plan. The noncommercial corn farmers raise approximately two-fifths of the nation's entire corn crop.

Farmers who are beginning to understand some phases of the law are asking why congress divided the corn producing area into two zones — commercial and noncommercial — and limited the storing and sealing to those growers inside the commercial section where only three-fifths of the crop is produced.

Constitutionality Involved.

In explaining this part of the law proponents of the act say that congress attempted to write it so that advantage could be taken of congressional powers provided in the constitution to regulate interstate and foreign commerce.

It is explained in the farm law that substantially all the corn produced in the commercial corn producing area, with the exception of a comparatively small amount used for farm consumption, is either sold or transported in interstate commerce, or is fed to live stock transported in interstate and foreign commerce. Almost all the corn produced outside the commercial area is either consumed, or is fed to live stock which is consumed, in the state in which such corn is produced. It was for this reason that only the commercial corn counties are to be subjected to the marketing quota regulations.

By limiting the federal government's activities in storing and holding corn off the market only in commercial counties, congress hoped that if the matter is ever brought before the Supreme court for test as to its constitutionality it would be approved.

Objective of Law.

One of the chief objectives of the farm law is said to be to raise corn prices to artificially high levels through federal government loans made at a rate which is expected to be above prices based on supply and demand. Theoretically all farmers who sell corn or feed it to live stock for sale are expected to benefit whether they live in the commercial belt and store corn or outside the commercial belt where they are not required to store corn and hold it off the market. The noncommercial growers will not be in constant fear of violating the marketing quota provisions of the new law.

But a farmer in the commercial zone who breaks the government seal and removes even a bushel of corn would be violating the law and subject to a penalty. For this illegal act he must pay to the government 15 cents a bushel for all corn taken out of a sealed crib whether he feeds or sells it. Farmers will not be permitted to sell or use any of the sealed corn until it has been officially released by the secretary of agriculture.

Noblitt-Sparks.

Investors' Guide: Do you have a report on Noblitt-Sparks? If so, I would appreciate having a copy.—L. F.

Answer: Noblitt-Sparks Industries, Inc., an Indiana corporation, manufactures a wide variety of automobile parts and accessories. It also produces hot water heaters, home and automobile radios, and electric heaters.

Among the automotive products are mufflers, tire pumps, jacks, instrument panel trims, oil filler tubes, hub caps, rear vision mirrors, and exhaust pipes. Important customers of the company are the Ford Motor company, General Motors corporation, Chrysler corporation, Hudson Motor Car company, and Studebaker corporation.

Beginning with the second quarter, earnings of the company in 1937 began to lag behind corresponding 1936 periods. Indicated profit in the final three months of 1937 was $301,292, against $482,534 in the December quarter of 1936. Earnings in recent years follow:

	Net sales.	Net income.	*Earned per share.
1937	$10,196,013	$ 624,049	$4.85
1936	9,353,174	1,044,094	6.58
1935	7,760,536	557,865	3.72
1934	5,369,681	302,712	2.02
1933	3,061,888	240,729	3.21
1932	2,348,689	†85,575	†1.13
1929	5,362,158	675,700	9.00

*On shares outstanding at the end of the year. †Deficit.

The company had 190,687 shares of $5 par common stock outstanding at the end of 1937. Dividend payments in 1937 totaled $3 a share. A payment of 25 cents will be made March 31 to stockholders of record March 19.

The balance sheet for Dec. 31, 1937, showed current assets of $4,002,144 and current liabilities of $477,139. A year earlier current assets were $2,686,579 and current liabilities were $828,396.
